RHONDDA CYNON TAF COUNTY BOROUGH COUNCIL

DELEGATED OFFICER DECISION

17th FEBRUARY 2025

A SUSTAINABLE FOOD STRATEGY FOR RHONDDA CYNON TAF: PUBLIC CONSULTATION

REPORT OF THE DIRECTOR - PUBLIC HEALTH, PROTECTION AND COMMUNITY SERVICES

Author(s): Caroline O'Neill, Head of Arts, Culture and Libraries

1. PURPOSE OF THE REPORT

- 1.1 To undertake a consultation of the Draft Sustainable Food Strategy, led by Rhondda Cynon Taf County Borough Council's Community Development Team, supported by the Rhondda Cynon Taf Food Partnership Network.

2. RECOMMENDATIONS

- 2.1 To undertake a consultation on the Draft Sustainable Food Strategy via the Council's website and through community networks across the County Borough, with the support of the Rhondda Cynon Taf Food Partnership Network.
- 2.2 To utilise the feedback from the four week consultation period to inform the final version of the strategy, prior to consideration by Cabinet.

3. REASONS FOR RECOMMENDATIONS

- 3.1 In order for the Rhondda Cynon Taf Food Partnership Network to be eligible to apply for the Sustainable Food Places Silver award, following being awarded the Bronze award in November 2023, a Sustainable Food Strategy for the County Borough is required.

4. BACKGROUND

- 4.1 In December 2020, the Council applied to Sustainable Food Places for a £5,000 Development Grant to initiate the strategic approach to food, and in January 2021 the Council was chosen as one of just four successful applicants from Wales.
- 4.2 The secured Development Grant was utilised to: gain a better understanding of the current Food System and current projects across the County Borough; instigate a Sustainable Food Partnership Network, including gaining buy-in, ownership and support from the public, private and voluntary sectors; and to develop an action plan to take the Good Food Movement forward.

- 4.3 The six-month Development Grant period culminated in an event on 18th May 2021, facilitated by Interlink RCT, attended by 82 individuals from organisations involved and interested in being part of Sustainable Food Places in RCT.
- 4.4 In November 2021, a Sustainable Food Co-ordinator role was established, funded by Sustainable Food Places and the WLGA EU Transitional Fund; and more recently, the UKG Shared Prosperity Fund.
- 4.5 The work is guided by an RCT Food Steering Group which has a Terms of Reference and meets bi-monthly.
- 4.6 An RCT Food Partnership Network has been established and currently has a membership of 116 individuals across 71 organisations, as well as two active sub-groups which meet quarterly to facilitate connections and collaborations between a broad range of food factors: the Community Growers Sub-group and the Food Pantry Subgroup.
- 4.7 The Rhondda Cynon Taf Food Partnership Network was awarded the Sustainable Food Places Bronze Award on 8th November 2023, the joint-third (alongside Carmarthenshire County Council) Welsh Local Authority to receive this award since the framework was initiated in 2015 (Cardiff 2014, Vale of Glamorgan 2021).
- 4.8 Since then, efforts have been concentrated towards achieving the Silver award (Cardiff City Council is the only Silver award holder in Wales), for which a 5-year Sustainable Food Strategy is required to be co-produced with the RCT Food Partnership Network.

5. KEY OBJECTIVES

- 5.1 The Sustainable Food Places awards celebrate progressive levels of achievement across all the Sustainable Food Places six key issues:

Key Issue 1: Taking a strategic and collaborative approach to good food governance and action.

Key Issue 2: Building public awareness, active food citizenship and a local good food movement.

Key Issue 3: Tackling food poverty and diet related ill-health and increasing access to affordable healthy food.

Key Issue 4: Creating a vibrant, prosperous, and diverse sustainable food economy.

Key Issue 5: Transforming catering and procurement and revitalising local and sustainable food supply chains.

Key Issue 6: Tackling the climate and nature emergency through sustainable food & farming and an end to food waste.

5.2 To achieve the Silver award:

- A diverse, robust, and sustainable cross-sector food partnership is required to be in place and to have co-produced a long-term food strategy.
- Local Authority policies and food access initiatives are required to be effectively promoting access to sustainable and healthy food for all.
- A diverse and connected local good food movement must be in place.
- Sustainable food enterprises should have a significant role in the local economy, backed by local catering and procurement practices; and
- A systemic response should be in place to address the negative climate and nature impacts of the local food system.

6. PROGRESS SO FAR

6.1 The following actions have supported the development of this co-produced draft Sustainable Food Strategy:

- A series of public participation events, such as Food Waste Action Week linked activities have been delivered across the County and hosted by RCT Food Partnership Network members.
- Engagement with Public Health Wales and Cwm Taf Morgannwg UHB has taken place to create and deliver activities around a healthy sustainable diet.
- Local sustainable food enterprises and private food businesses have been engaged in food sustainability discussions.
- Work has been undertaken with the Council's Procurement department to understand the current procurement policies regarding sustainability and short supply chains, and to seek to inform and develop relevant new policies.
- Work to raise awareness of the detrimental effect of food waste and food supply chains on the environment and engagement with key climate action stakeholders to ensure that food plays a central role in environmental conversations.

6.2 The vision, as set out in the Sustainable Food Strategy, is that:

“Every person in Rhondda Cynon Taf can easily access nutritious, affordable, and sustainable food”.

6.3 In line with the Sustainable Food Places 6 Key Issues, 6 Key Priorities have been identified for RCT with target outcomes and identified actions that will formulate the annual Implementation Plan:

1. Our Vision

“Every person in Rhondda Cynon Taf can easily access nutritious, affordable, and sustainable food”.

2. Introduction

This Sustainable Food Strategy: Taith Bwyd 2025-2030, outlines Rhondda Cynon Taf County Borough Council's (RCTCBC) priorities in relation to sustainable food and its intention to co-ordinate and collaborate through the Rhondda Cynon Taf (RCT) Food Partnership Network. This strategy builds on the work undertaken by the partnership since 2021, and works towards realising the Taith Bwyd strategic vision that:

“Every person in Rhondda Cynon Taf can easily access nutritious, affordable, and sustainable food”.

The RCT Food Partnership Network and Sustainable Food Places

The RCT Food Partnership Network grew out of the community response to COVID 19, and is a network of community groups, organisations, public bodies, businesses, and individuals. Coordination of the partnership sits with RCTCBC. In 2021, the RCT Food Partnership Network became a member of Sustainable Food Places, a network of place-based local food partnerships across the UK that are committed to working together to create change to the current food system. The RCT Food Partnership Network achieved the Bronze Award in 2023, only the 4th place to receive the award in Wales. The Taith Bwyd Strategy is a commitment by the Council and the RCT Food Partnership Network to work towards the Silver and Gold awards.

As a member of Sustainable Food Places, the RCT Food Partnership Network has adopted the framework of Sustainable Food Places. It recognises that acting on food is a vital part of tackling the UK's biggest social, economic, and environmental challenges; by forming diverse and robust cross-sector partnerships, it forms a collaboration to create lasting change by agreeing on priorities and actions for the local area. The framework outlines 6 Key Issues to be addressed by food partnerships to create a fairer and more sustainable food system in their communities.

Sustainable Food Places: Six Key Issues

1. Good Food Governance & Strategy

2. Good Food Movement

3. Tackling Food Inequality and Nutritious Food for All

4. Thriving Local Food Economy

5. Sustainable Catering & Procurement

6. Food for the Planet

Over recent years, funding provided by the Welsh Government and Sustainable Food Places has supported the Council and the RCT Food Partnership Network to provide direct food support and co-ordinate the distribution of community grants to food projects and residents.

National legislation has been considered in the development of this strategy, and key ways in which Taith Bwyd supports them are outlined in Appendix A.

A key driver in RCT is the Council's Corporate Plan 2024-2030: 'Working with our Communities', which identifies four Wellbeing objectives that Taith Bwyd contributes in the delivery of:

- People and Communities: Supporting and empowering RCT residents and communities to live safe, healthy, and fulfilling lives;
- Work and Business: Helping to strengthen and grow RCT's Economy;
- Nature and the Environment: A green and clean RCT that improves and protects RCT environment and nature;
- Culture, Heritage and Welsh Language: Recognising and celebrating RCT's past, present, and future.

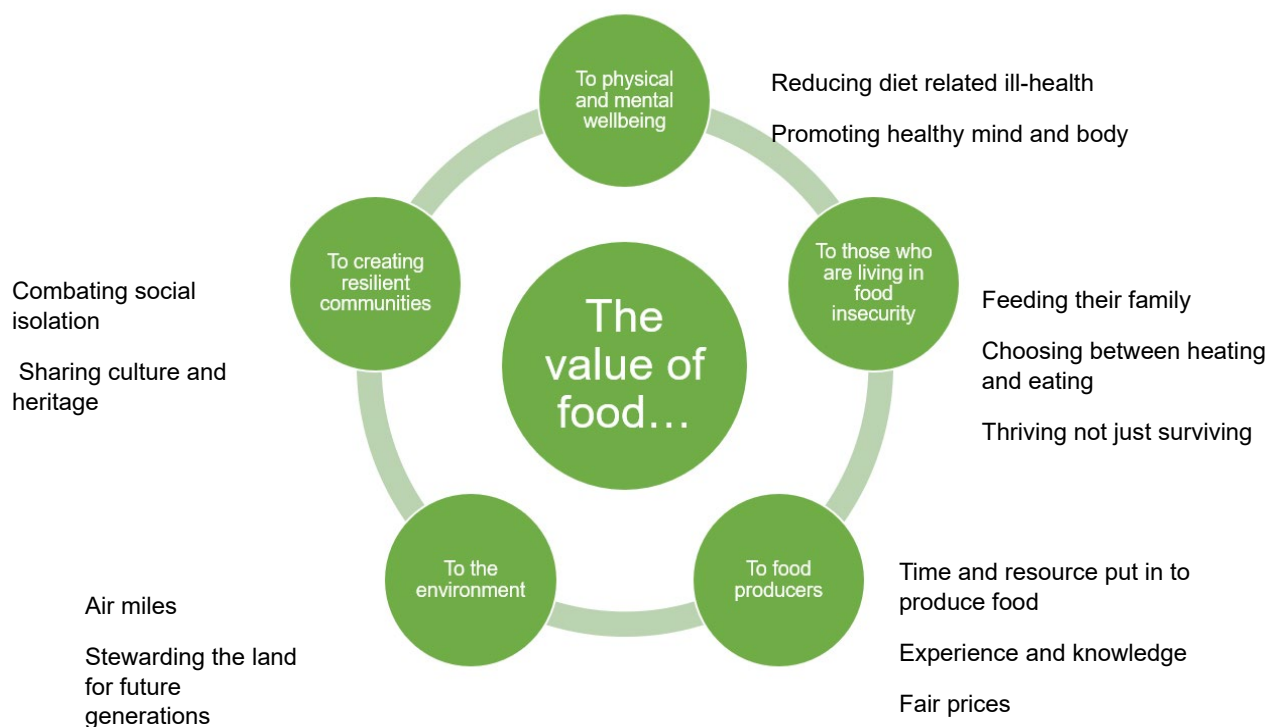

Taith Bwyd also contributes to the Council's Think Climate Strategy by its intention to promote sustainable, local food in services and communities.

Regionally, the Strategy contributes to the Cwm Taf Morgannwg Public Service Board's Wellbeing Plan, with the aim of providing access to nutritious, high-quality food locally to create communities that are healthy, inclusive and cohesive.

Taith Bwyd has been designed and co-created by communities across the County Borough and captures the changes to the food system that the people of RCT want to see. Building on achievements of the RCT Food Partnership Network, The Food Summit: The Future of Food in RCT was held in July 2024. Attendees included representatives from food pantries, community growers, Council officers, the Future Generations Commissioners Office and food businesses. The Summit, facilitated by Cwmpas, held workshops throughout the day where participants worked together to discuss the Sustainable Food Places' 6 Key Issues and to generate ideas and actions that the RCT Food Partnership Network could take forward. The aim of the day was to capture the voices and knowledge held across the food system, and to design a strategy and supporting action plan that is based on the needs of RCT's communities.

A key message from the Summit and the Sustainable Food Strategy Steering Group is that in order to change the food system in RCT, there needs to be a change in understanding the value of food throughout the food system. Food holds intrinsic value far beyond its monetary costs, serving as a cornerstone for our health, the environment, and local economies. Nutrient rich food is essential to maintain physical and mental well-being, preventing chronic diseases, and fostering a healthier society. Sustainable food practices, such as organic farming and reduced waste, contribute significantly to environmental preservation by conserving resources, reducing greenhouse gas emissions, and promoting biodiversity. Moreover, local food systems strengthen community ties and boost local economies by supporting farmers, creating jobs, and ensuring fresher, more nutritious produce.

Collectively, these factors highlight the profound impact of food on our lives, communities, and the planet.

The RCT Sustainable Food Strategy: Taith Bwyd is Rhondda Cynon Taf's collective movement towards a sustainable and fair food system, where everyone can access nutritious, affordable, and sustainable food (see Appendix B).

Success will be measured, not only in improved access to nutritious sustainable food in RCT, but through strengthened social connections, improved health outcomes, and the enduring commitment to stewarding the land for future generations. It isn't a finite journey with an end, it is a journey of constant learning, sharing, and improving. It will serve as a model of how communities everywhere can empower and build food systems that are just, resilient, and sustainable.

3. The Local Picture

Rhondda Cynon Taf is a local authority in south-east Wales that is home to 239,000 people. It is the third largest local authority in Wales by population. The County Borough is situated in the south Wales valleys, characterised by its stunning natural landscapes.

It is vitally important that we work collaboratively with relevant partners to develop a more strategic approach to food poverty including the establishment of a Food Prosperity Network and a Food Response Pathway that have been successful in some other areas and which provides a more sustainable way ahead."

Rhondda Cynon Taf County Borough Council Senior Leadership: Food Poverty Report, 5th November 2020

RCT has some of the most deprived areas in Wales, with 23.4% living in poverty compared to the 21.5% Wales average.¹ People living in the most deprived areas have a lower life expectancy and spend more time experiencing poor health than those living in less deprived areas². The Welsh Index of Multiple Deprivation 2019 records that Rhondda Cynon Taf has the third highest lower super output areas (LSOAs) ranked in the 50% most deprived LSOAs in Wales (WIMD, 2019). Additionally, 22% of pupils in the County Borough are eligible for Free School Meals compared to the Wales average of 20.3% (School Census, Welsh Government, 2023).

Local organisations across the County Borough have opened their doors to members of their communities to access food through a variety of food services. There are around 35 different foodbanks and pantries that open across the week providing vital support for those living in food insecurity.

'It's harder to eat healthy in the towns and villages of Cwm Taf Morgannwg (CTM) than in other places. And that's just not fair.'

Resident of CTM Health Board. in conversation with Public Health 2024

Diets high in processed foods, sugar, and unhealthy fats are linked to rising rates of a wide range of health conditions which increase the risk of a wide range of diseases such as cardiovascular conditions, type 2 diabetes, and strokes. Healthy foods, especially fresh produce, lean proteins and whole grains, are often more expensive than processed or fast foods. This can be prohibitive, leading people to choose cheaper, less nutritious foods. The number of people overweight and living with obesity is on the rise in the UK. It is estimated that 64% of adults are overweight or obese in the UK and there has been an upward trend since 2015 to 2016.³

Locally, this trend in increase of diet-related ill-health is evident. In 2022-2023, only a third of adults reported having a healthy weight and only a fifth of adults reported eating five or more portions of fruit and vegetables a day⁴. Additionally, over a quarter of all children in RCT are overweight or obese (26.8%).⁴

A survey conducted by Public Health Wales found that the food environment that we live in and have access to, rather than lack of knowledge, is the biggest barrier to action on weight.⁵ 29% of participants recorded that 'too many temptations' was the biggest barrier stopping people from taking action to maintain a healthy weight. Public Health Wales have concluded that education on nutrition or eating healthily is not the prime barrier to a healthy weight, and that access to unhealthy choices in our environments is. In RCT, there are 107.49 fast food outlets per 100,000 population, which is the 6th highest in Wales⁶.

'Providing food at source greatly reduces the fuel needs for transportation and provides jobs to residents. Local food eliminates the reliance on international trade routes.'

The current food system with its reliance on global supply chains and abundance of produce available at any time has a drastic effect on our environment. The Waste and Resources Action Programme estimates that in the UK we wasted 10.7 million tonnes of food in 2021.⁷ Globally we use more land, energy, and resources than we need to sustain ourselves, whilst paradoxically millions go without enough food to feed themselves. Tackling food waste, promoting sustainable food and farming, and forward-thinking procurement policies supporting local suppliers, is intrinsic to tackling the climate emergency. In RCT, promoting climate-friendly actions and food choices can make a difference to the land we live on and that we leave for future generations to thrive upon.

4. Key Priorities

Priority 1: Provide Good Food Governance

Transforming RCT's food culture and food system requires a joined up strategic approach and committed long term collaboration between individuals and organisations across every sector and every level, from community grassroots and third sector organisations to businesses and Council leaders. Effective governance creates a framework for development, ensuring food systems are equitable and inclusive to all. Through collaborative efforts across local government, public health, and community organisations, RCTCBC will promote affordability, sustainability and nutrition ensuring access for all residents.

Priority 2: Create a Good Food Movement

Increased public awareness of food issues and opportunities for widespread public participation in food-related activities is integral to building a good food movement within the County Borough. Public involvement transforms food from a commodity into a shared responsibility, energising a movement that connects people with the values of good food and community well-being.

Creating opportunities for residents and visitors in RCT to get involved with food-related activities encourages participation and fosters a sense of ownership over the local food system. This engagement builds a collective commitment to improving food access, supporting local food producers, and reducing food waste.

⁷ <https://www.wrap.ngo/resources/report/food-surplus-and-waste-uk-key-facts-updated-november-2023>

Priority 3: Tackle Food Inequality and Provide Access to Nutritious Food for All

Good food is a right not a privilege, and everyone should be able to eat healthily every day, no matter who they are, what they do or where they live. Tackling food inequality and ensuring access to nutritious food is essential for promoting both individual wellbeing and broader social equity.

Working towards a more equitable and healthier food system supports the development of sustainable local economies and healthier environments, ultimately contributing to a more just and prosperous RCT.

Priority 4: Promote and Support the Local Food Economy

A thriving local food economy strengthens communities by supporting local farmers, businesses, and consumers. It fosters resilience by keeping money circulating within the region and creating local jobs.

By prioritising local food production and consumption, we can help mitigate the climate crisis by actively reducing reliance on global supply chains and reduce our carbon footprint due to shorter supply chains, creating a more resilient food system. Moreover, increasing awareness of where food is grown and how it is made increases stronger connections between producers and consumers, increasing trust and transparency in the food system.

Priority 5: Transform Catering and Procurement

Working towards changes within Catering and Procurement provides a uniquely powerful lever for promoting good food. Each week thousands of people are fed by food procured within the Council and other anchor institutions across RCT.

By setting an example of procuring food that is locally sourced, nutritious and good for the planet, we can positively influence the eating habits of our residents. Committing to sustainable food procurement and catering, large organisations can set a precedent that impacts the health and wellbeing of our communities and the planet throughout their lives.

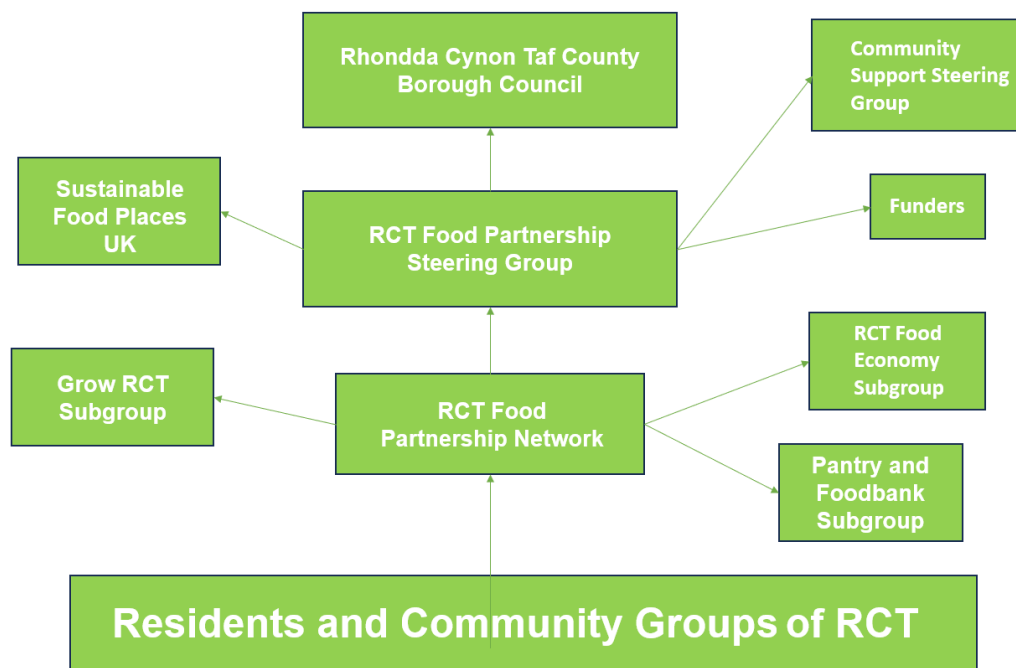

Priority 6: Promote Food for the Planet

The global food system is having a devastating effect on the environment we see around us. Promoting climate friendly actions and changing food policies can significantly contribute to carbon reduction plans by minimising the carbon footprint of food bought and promoting long term environmental resilience.

By changing what individuals and institutions choose to eat, we can transform what, how and where food is produced and thus help to minimise negative impacts on climate and biodiversity. At the same time, by tackling food waste, we can ensure that all good food goes to those who need it.

5. Implementation and Review

This is a 5-year strategy, and its implementation will be driven by the RCT Food Partnership Steering Group and Network. Engagement and progress monitoring of the Strategy will take place as set out in the structure below. The Steering Group will be responsible for collating and monitoring progress against each of the key deliverables as outlined within Action Plan (Appendix C).

Progress on the delivery of the Strategy will be reported quarterly to the RCT Food Partnership Network, and annually to the Community Support Steering Group, RCTCBC Cabinet and Committees (as relevant), as well as in line with the requirements to external funders. The strategy will be reviewed by the RCT Food Partnership Steering Group and Network bi-annually.

Appendix A: Connection to existing local and national frameworks
