Housing

Summary:

The site is located on the edge of the town centre of Tonyrefail, and consists of an open, improved agricultural field that slopes moderately up the hillside to the south east, into more open countryside. There is existing access from the end of Mill Street to the edge of the site, although there would have to be significant improvement. There is a television mast and substation on the edge of the site. The 2.4 hectare site is allocated for residential development.
