Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary If this goes ahead I would like to see a bridge going from this site across the rivers to Robertstown then joining to the A4095 as Abernant Road will not take any more traffic.
2 3	Representation text If this goes ahead I would like to see a bridge going from this site across the rivers to Robertstown then joining to the A4095 as Abernant Road will not take any more traffic. I believe that a new bridge should be part of this development for a new access. As Abernant Road is too small to take the extra volume of traffic which will take place in this development going into Robertstown and A4095 is a very good thing for the area.
4 5	Changes sought A new access bridge to the site. As old roads will not be able to accommodate ? extra traffic.
9 7	Why no previous Representation I did not believe that this was such a big development & went ahead.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary The hospital site should be developed sensitively for housing but the playground should allocated for informal play.
2 3	Representation text I agree to the allocation for housing but the site should include an area designated for informal play. There is a paucity of such provision in the Treherbert Ward. This would comply with LDP Policy AW 7 Community infrastructure which requires the provision of Open Space and Play facilities. The tree on the site should be protected.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	The absence of the designation of a principle town in the Rhondda.
2 3	Representation text
	As stated in the LDP the northern part of the County Borough has suffered from deprivation lack of economic development and population decline over the decades. The designation of at least one principle town in the Rhondda Valleys would as stated in the plan would bring a focus so that the maximum social and economic benefits can be achieved. Failure to designate such a town will inevitably lead to a deterioration of the shopping areas of the Rhondda and shoppers will be attracted to shop outside their native valley in the designated principle towns of Aberdare, Pontypridd or Llantrisant.
4 5	Changes sought
	Designate at least one town of the Rhondda as a principle town i.e. Treorci, Tonypany, Porth or Ferndale.
9 7	Why no previous Representation
	I did not include the Principle Town proposal as I concentrated on the candidate sites within the ward I represent i.e. The Treherbert Ward.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary The importance of the A4061 Rhigos Mountain Road should be recognised in the LDP.
2 3	Representation text The A4061 Rhigos Mountain Road is vital for the prosperity of the upper Rhondda Fawr. It is the road that many residents use to travel to their place of work, and it is important for business for receiving of supplies and for the distribution of their goods. Over the past 20 years the road has been closed for several months on two occasions due to landslips. The road therefore should benefit from regular capital investment to ensure a good road surface and drainage so that the occurrence of further landslips is kept to minimum.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	I disagree with designation for Mixed development. I support the designation in the present Rhondda Plan i.e. Leisure and Tourism
2 3	Representation text
	I believe there is great potential in developing this site for leisure and tourism. It a very beautiful site and is currently used regularly by local people as area for walking.I believe that an outward bound type of facility could be developed with facilities for Mountain Biking and Hand Gliding for example I disagree with mixed development designation for the following reasons- <input type="checkbox"/> The proposal to build 400 houses on this site appear to be impractical due to major problems of access. The proposed community would be isolated from the rest of the communities of the valley. Access by car would be via Treherbert which is at a distance of 1 mile. Access via a bus Service along Brook St Blaenrhondda would be difficult and with the parking problems in the area the site would be served in practise .by a single track road. Access to schools and other services would have to use one of these means of access. In the Rhondda we have the experience of the development of a community at a distance from other communities i.e. which caused great social problems.It appears that the proposal contradicts the following policy of the LDP Policy AW 5 New Development Accessibility 1) the development would be accessibleto the local and wider community by a range of sustainable modes of transport.
4 5	Changes sought
	That the site remain designated for Leisure and Tourism.

	An increase in 400 hundred houses will exacerbate the inadequate sewage system in the Rhondda Fawr, which often overflows into the Rhondda Fawr river. Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	The Hirwaun Ironworks SINC includes land to the rear of Bute Terrace which has an extant consent for residential development (in Part) and is allocated in the extant development plan for residential use it should, therefore, be excluded from the designation.
2 3	Representation text
	The site has an extant planning consent(in Part) and is included within the settlement boundary for Hirwaun in the adopted Cynon Valley Local Plan being allocated for residential development. There have been no material changes in circumstances to warrant its exclusion from the defined settlement in the LDP. Please see accompanying supporting statement and information.
4 5	Changes sought
	Amendment of the Hirwaun Ironworks SINC boundary to exclude the site as indicated in the accompanying ecological assessment and supporting statement.
6 6	Candidate Site Ref No
	397/414
9 7	Why no previous Representation
	The preferred strategy is considered acceptable in general terms.
21 11	Why attend Examination?
	Whilst the principle of residential development is clearly acceptable, there are other more complex issues to consider which would benefit form discussion at the examination.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Policy NSA 9 allocates land for residential development on non - strategic sites in the Northern strategy area. Land to the rear of Bute Terrace has an extant consent for residential development (in Part) and is currently allocated for residential use in the extant local plan it should be included in Policy NSA 9 as a residential allocation.
2 3	Representation text
	Land to the rear of Bute Terrace, Hirwaun should be included as a residential allocation. See supporting statement and information. There have been no material changes in circumstances to warrant its omission from the LDP.
4 5	Changes sought
	Policy NSA 9 should be amended to include land to the rear of Bute Terrace, Hirwaun as a residential allocation.
6 6	Candidate Site Ref No
	397/414
9 7	Why no previous Representation
	The preferred strategy is considered acceptable and is supportive of the allocation of the site for residential development.
21 11	Why attend Examination?

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary I object to the candidate site 197 not being included in L.D.P. for housing allocations.
2 3	Representation text Candidate site 197, as a whole, is a designated S.I.N.C. However the upper area of the 0.2 hectares has little ecological significance: is clear of trees; is adjacent to the current settlement boundary and prone to fly-tipping. I would like this area only to be reconsidered.
4 5	Changes sought I would like the 0.2 hectares of C.S 197 to be include in the new settlement boundary.
6 6	Candidate Site Ref No 197
9 7	Why no previous Representation I only acquired part of C.S 197 in July 2007. The site is 0.85 hectares but I own only 0.3 hectare. 0.2 hectare is scrubland and it is this area only, that I wish to develop.
21 11	Why attend Examination? Acquiring this land half-way through the process of candidate site assessments has restricted my representations. I would like to clarify my application.

Item	Question	Reply	Soundness Tests
17 8	CE2 Test? Not realistic and appropiates and/or not founded on robust and credible evidence?	Yes
20 9	Why changes satisfy Soundness Give details why the changes you propose will ensure that the Plan This area of 0.2 hectares should not be of S.I.N.C status, This was the only given reason for the refusal of the site in the housing allocation of the L.D.P.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	I object to 2/3 of my land being proposed as a SINc when it dies not match the SINC description and has little ecological value (Appendix 1)
2 3	Representation text
	The site measures 0.3 hectare. 0.2 is completely free of trees, is scrubland and prone to fly tipping. It is an eyesore. 0.1 hectare is justifiably (SIC) a SINC. This are would be untouched. (Appendix 2)
4 5	Changes sought
	I would like the PSINC boundary to be amended to exclude 0.2 hectare of my land and that area to be included in the new settlement boundary (Appendix 3)
6 6	Candidate Site Ref No
	197
9 7	Why no previous Representation
	The candidate site 197 was submitted by the previous owner of the land. I acquired only 0.3 hectares of the C.S in July 2007. 0.2 hectares is not wooded and is adjacent to the current settlement boundary. (Appendix 4)
21 11	Why attend Examination?
	Acquiring the land in July 2007 has disadvantaged the application because the preferred strategy consultation period had ended.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	I wish to object to the statement "Development proposals outside and adjoining the defined settlement boundary of Aberdare will not be permitted"
2 3	Representation text
	The reason for the above statement is given in page 80 paragraph 6.61. The L.D.P proposes rto develop a swathe of land (Robertstown / Abernant) to provide 830+ houses. I feel that sites of less than 0.3 hectare, when developed will have no impact on infrastructure or services.
4 5	Changes sought
	I would like to include Aberdare within Policy NSA 12 as on p80 paragraph 6.57 there is a recognition of the important contribution, the development of small site have made, to the housing land bank.j

9 7	Why no previous Representation
	I only acquired part of the C.C 197 in Jul 2007. The whole site was submitted by the previous owner.

	Werfa Farm site number 106 should be include in the local development plan as an alternative site for housing The site would offer affordable housing.It has good links to major towns and cities by road, rail and bus routes it is close to industrial estates which are actively promoting new enterprises and jobs. New affordable housing would not overstrain the existing infrastructure and would not have a detrimental impact on the environment by causing pollution etc.,New affordable hosing would meet the needs of indigious people which in recent years have been unable to purchase affordable housing due to the lack of supply. affordable housing would encourage young people to stay in the area and would increase the viability of the local community through business, schools and wellbeing of the local families.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	I wish to object to the realignment of the settlement boundary shown on the LDP deposit draft Proposals Map (sheet 1).
2 3	Representation text
	I own 0.16h of land in ynysyboeth allocated for housing purposes in the adopted Cynon Valley local plan together with approx 0.17h of adjoining land outside the settlement limits (please see attached plan no.1). The present deposit plan now places all of my land outside the realigned settlement boundary which I consider unjust; particularly when it would be more reasonably flexible and better structured to deal with the changing circumstances for the route of the settlement boundary to coincide with the adjacent "SINC" area (no 69) boundary which abuts my land on three sides without encroaching upon it. (Please see attached plan No.2)
4 5	Changes sought
	That the settlement boundary shown on the LDP Deposit Draft proposals map (sheet 1) be amended to coincide with the defined limits of the adjacent "SINC" area (no.69) as shown outlined in red on the attached plan No.3

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	The residential settlement boundary has been drawn too tightly around the southern part of Penrhiwceiber, and excludes a brownfield site always considered part of the settlement and certainly not countryside.
2 3	Representation text
	I note that in respect of the northern part of the Borough [sic], policy NSA 12 has been framed to allow certain categories of residential development outside but adjoining the residential settlement boundary. Whilst I appreciate this reflects the need for new housing in the area and allows certain development which does not fall within the settlement boundary, the settlement boundary does not include my Clients' land when more logically it should. The boundary identified in the plan INCLUDES land immediately adjoining which is not developed but is open land used as allotments, but EXCLUDES my Clients' land which includes a building and commercial yard which both have very urban characteristics and have for many years formed part of the settlement area.
	It appears logical and will form a sounder base for your Council's residential development policies (and conform with Assembly for Wales policies for residential development) if the settlement boundary is amended as shown to include my Clients' land.
4 5	Changes sought
	The settlement boundary should be redrawn to include the subject site as shown.
9 7	Why no previous Representation
	I was not instructed in respect of the land, and the objectors were not familiar with the LDP process and its implications in respect of their proposal for the land.

1 2 Issue Summary

There is an apparent contradiction within the document that if the recycling facilities at Treorchy are indeed safeguarded as proposed, the development of houses at Cemetery Road, Treorchy could not occur as it is too close the recycling site.

I do not support the significant potential for building so many additional properties off Cemetery Road, Treorchy. It would not be I keeping with the area and would ruin the local amenity enjoyed by all.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1	2 Issue Summary Objection to Policy CS8. Omission of the A4061.
2	3 Representation text I can find no evidence that the A4061 'Rhigos' mountain road between Treherbert and the A465 inter-city highway at Hirwaun/'Tower Colliery' roundabout, is recognised as a route of strategic significance and that as such, its vulnerable sections will be permanently stabilized and its status be improved to an all-weather-usable artery. For Upper Valley dwellers, it is an important route to paid employment as it places along the Heads of the Valleys corridor - from Neath-Port Talbot, to Ebbw Vale and even beyond. Its far too regular closure for frost, ice, snow, flood, fog, mist etc, REDUCES Treherbert and Treorci's efforts to be wards that can sustain a working (or work aspiring) population. Once the A465 is completely 'dualled', it is THERE that future jobs will emerge. The upkeep of Rhigos road must be recognised as a necessity. It will also be the main INWARD route that "Beacons" tourists will use to walk and cycle, IN AWE, in the upper valley landscapes. It is ironic that in recent years, the Welsh Assembly and relevant Local Authorities are spending millions o pounds reopening the rail links to Ebbw Vale, + Maesteg, + Danes Court, and proposing new stations in The Vale, whilst R.C.T's Development Plan map, has the upper Rhondda Fawr rail line converted over ----- to lay the proposed Gelli-Treherbert relief road. The relief road's route should be adjacent TO, not ON, the railway line. Rail affords the most efficient mass transit method AND greatly reduces CO2 emissions per person/miles travelled, AND aids the poorest in society to gain access to non-local works and services. The rail's status should also be upgraded to dual track. The A4061 'Rhigos' Mountain Road should be given a guaranteed All-weather status. It has to cross a number of glacial solifluction terraces. Provision should be established IN the L.D.Plan, that road maintenance will be of such high quality that land slides need never be the cause of months of TOTAL closure. (These in the last two decades, Fo (sic) repair problems that had already been KNOWN to be problems). As well as the route-to-work OUT of the valley, it is the route IN for current and future leisure tourists who's spending IN the Valley will be an important part of our Ward's economic regeneration and sustainability. The Plan should embrace the significance of the road - AND its maintenance, as a tourist artery. The same applies to the Bwlch-y-Clawdd and Maerd-Aberdare mountain routes.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary Objection to Policy CS8a2
2 3	Representation text The LDP map has the northern terminals of this VITAL facility, terminating at Cornel Chapel, Penyreglyn, Treherbert. This is the very narrowest part of the existing "main road" on the valley floor. It is impossible to accommodate a routeway the width of a modern relief road, funnelling into the existing "narrows" of lower Bute Street, at that site. A far better solution could be located a few hundred yards to the South, just to the North of the Royal Oak Hotel.
4 5	Changes sought The northern end of the Gelli-Treherbert relief road should cross the valley just south of Penyreglyn New Primary School and climbs ABOVE the urban settlement boundary at NSA 9.16 (currently Ynysyfeio Tip) so as to join directly with the A4061 'Rhigos' Mountain road, at the hairpin bend known as Firester's House. The building still exists. There is ample flat land at that site for a roundabout/interchange near the house. This is a FAR better solution than the Plan's proposal to continue funneling satellite navigated articulated lorries et al, that increasingly are "guided" here, making the A4061 into a traffic "rat run". The consequences of this, in the Treorci High Street narrows, and at Stag Square traffic lights are already well documented.

1 2	Issue Summary Objection to Policy CS8a2
2 3	Representation text The LDP map has CS8.2 relief road running ON the railway line, North and South of Treorci's railway station. Given the transport pressures we endure in the valley, the last thing that would ease the problem is re-use of rail, by a roadway. The railway line must never be destroyed.
4 5	Changes sought The current exhortation to use public transport to help us toward a more sustainable life stlye is at its most appropriate in areas of socio-economic deprivation. The rail link in the Valley is vital AND the most efficient way for families to quickly reach the work and services that are ONLY available to the South. To end the misery of train timetable failures and unreliability, the rail system should be restored to a dual track. Putting a relief road on the track bed would ignore the huge body of existing evidence that rail is the most efficient mass transit mode. And the plan proposes 900!! New houses, North of Stag Square, Treorci, making the need to retain the rail link even more valid.

2 3	Representation text I am writing with regards to a piece of land which has been put forward for inclusion within the settlement boundary. The piece of land is on part of Celyn Farm and is triangular in shape, two of its boundaries have houses along it, while the remainder is lined with trees, it is well drained and not on any flood plain. Access to it is good, meeting all highway requirements, I therefore would like to support its inclusion within the new settlement boundary. This proposal was originally put forward by Boyer Planning, I have not received any information from them and have been unable to contact them and there for have no reference number for it, for this reason could all correspondence now be sent direct to my self at the above address. Many thanks

Item	Question	Representation Text
1	2 Issue Summary
		Our objection relates specifically to the proposal to extend Craig yr Hesg Quarry.
2	3 Representation text
		The proposal indicates that the quarry will extend within 160 meters (sic) of the nearest residential property and 165 meters (sic) of Cefn Primary school thereby raising concerns that quarry blasting may compromise the structural integrity of our local school and homes. The airborne dust created by the quarry already impacts on the lives of residents. Further expansion may have more sinister implications for the lung health of local people. The road Infrastructure on to and from the quarry is already under strain from the heavy vehicles serving the quarry. A dramatic expansion of the quarry will exacerbate this situation. The quarry expansion will reduce the market value of local properties thereby undermining the viability of efforts to regenerate the area. Our regeneration plans also include innovative proposals for the area of land in question.
		Our partnership believes that the proposals are inconsistent with the Welsh Assembly Government's vision for a sustainable Wales, with: '...living communities that fully reflect our rich and diverse culture, creating a fair and just society within a sustainable environment, generating a healthy future for all, ensuring opportunities for learning for life and underpinned by the creation of a prosperous society' (One Wales: One Planet (2008) WAG pp12)

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
		I submitted a request some 5 years ago to have this small plot of land included within the Plan, then it was UDP, then LDP, the process was scrapped and all information I had submitted, such as access statements and topography were lodged with the Department in Abercynon. After many telephone calls I was assured my submissions were included within the proposed draft. I made a request to visit the site with the officer when he carried out the assessment, as without local knowledge they would not understand the two access routes.
2 3	Representation text
		The plot of land lies adjacent to 2 bungalows on Brookfield Lane. The land is fairly level and is set between 2 residential properties some 150 metres apart. The plot of land enjoys 3 potential access points, however the main access to be used is in front of the existing bungalows and through dilapidated garages that are falling down. This will open the plot for further development of 3 bungalows, with turning facility in place. The inclusion of this land within the LDP will prevent any further development into the open fields to the rear and should be classed as infill. The properties are easily sustained by several schools, bus and rail networks. There is also a need for accommodation of this type in the area.
		The land at present has now become a place for teenagers and people with addictions. The clearing of this land will only enhance the street scene and provide much-needed property of this type in the area. With a site visit, it would demonstrate the obvious conclusion that the bungalows could easily be continued across in line.
4 5	Changes sought
		I would like to see 143 included within the LDP for residential development.
8 7	Previous Representation No

21 11	Why attend Examination?
		As I was certain the information I had previously submitted was enough for this piece of land to be included within the LDP as potential development subject to planning, I was hugely disappointed to see the proposed decision to exclude it.
		I had numerous discussions at length with the many officers via the UDP and LDP and fear it has fallen deaf ears, although I understand you have probably heard this from other disappointed applicants. The really is a "no brainer" and I feel I need to be there for absolute common sense to prevail.

															P1 - despite my best efforts of being included in the consultation with the community, my local knowledge would have shown the initial inspector the complete view. I understand other people have had the opportunity to do so.
															C1 - I notice many areas on the LDP which suggest potential development are not well-placed, or as suited as my site, and are in areas of less need, however to be included.
															CE2 - For every policy not allowing development, there are policies that encourage development and contradict that previous policy, such as preventing any further development, using former brown field sites, infill between properties. Had these policies been considered, I believe my land would have been included.
															CE4 - there are massive economic problems at the moment and there needs to be an opportunity to develop affordable homes within the are they live. As people grow older the ability to manouvre around the home is difficult. Bungalows ion level sites are extremely rare in this area. The plan needs to reflect changing demand due to the economic climate and the age profile of residents, rather than one-size-fits-all.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

20	9	Why changes satisfy Soundness Give details why the changes you propose will ensure that the Plan
Our proposals are much more consistent with the Wales Spatial Plan's commitment to supporting the economic development of communities without compromising environmental and social considerations.
'Our future depends on the validity of our communities as attractive places to live and work. We need to reduce inequalities between communities whilst retaining their character and distinctive ness' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp29 (Word version).
'The quality of our natural environment has an intrinsic value as a life support system, but also promotes wellbeing for living and working and contributes to our economic objectives. Safeguarding and protecting our natural and historic assets, and enhancing resilience to address the challenges of climate change, will enable us to attract people to our communities and provide the wellbeing and quality of life to encourage them to stay and preserve the foundations for the future' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp38 (Word version).
The plan does not consider the Glyncoch Partnership's proposals which are focused upon enhancing the designated area of land for access to the Graigwen Nature reserve, as well as a host of projects to enhance the health and wellbeing of residents, support out door learning as well as community resilience to climate change.
It is also important to point out that the settlement boundary surrounding Glyncoch does not include Cefn Primary School, whereas it does include other schools in Rhondda Cynon Taff.

2 3	Representation text The proposals indicate that the quarry will be extended within 160 meters (sic) of the nearest residential property and 165 meters (sic) of Cefn Primary school. I am deeply concerned about the blasting at the quarry and how it may compromise the structural integrity of our local school and homes.
4 5	Changes sought The Glyncoch Community partnership wish to develop this area of land for pathways to link Glyncoch with Loops and Links paths as well as having a more pleasant walking route to Pontypridd town centre. The proposals would also give us a link to the out door classrooms in the woodland adjacent to Graigwen. These proposals are much more consistent both with the meets (sic) of the Glyncoch community and our aspirations to be a healthy active community and a highly educated community that cares about our local environment.

	The proposals developed by the Glyncoch Community Partnership and GAFA Group are much more consistent with community needs, as well as the National Assembly for Wales constitutional duty to promote sustainable development which takes into account environmental and social considerations as well economic considerations. Also the LDP is faulty in that it does not include Cefn Primary School within its boundaries for residential and community amenity and the site for mineral extraction is 154 meters (sic) from the nearest house contradicting the 200 Buffer Zone policy.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

Our proposals are much more consistent with the Wales Spatial Plan's commitment to supporting the economic development of communities without compromising environmental and social considerations.
'Our future depends on the validity of our communities as attractive places to live and work. We need to reduce inequalities between communities whilst retaining their character and distinctive ness' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp29 (Word version).
'The quality of our natural environment has an intrinsic value as a life support system, but also promotes wellbeing for living and working and contributes to our economic objectives. The plan does not consider the Glyncoch Partnership's proposals which are focused upon enhancing the designated area of land for access to the Graigwen Nature reserve, as well as a host of projects to enhance the health and wellbeing of residents, support out door learning as well as community resilience to climate change.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

Our proposals are much more consistent with the Wales Spatial Plan's commitment to supporting the economic development of communities without compromising environmental and social considerations.
'Our future depends on the validity of our communities as attractive places to live and work. We need to reduce inequalities between communities whilst retaining their character and distinctive ness' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp29 (Word version).
'The quality of our natural environment has an intrinsic value as a life support system, but also promotes wellbeing for living and working and contributes to our economic objectives. The plan does not consider the Glyncoch Partnership's proposals which are focused upon enhancing the designated area of land for access to the Graigwen Nature reserve, as well as a host of projects to enhance the health and wellbeing of residents, support out door learning as well as community resilience to climate change.
It is also important to point out that the settlement boundary surrounding Glyncoch does not include Cefn Primary School, whereas it does include other schools in Rhondda Cynon Taff.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

Our proposals are much more consistent with the Wales Spatial Plan's commitment to supporting the economic development of communities without compromising environmental and social considerations.
'Our future depends on the validity of our communities as attractive places to live and work. We need to reduce inequalities between communities whilst retaining their character and distinctive ness' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp29 (Word version).
'The quality of our natural environment has an intrinsic value as a life support system, but also promotes wellbeing for living and working and contributes to our economic objectives. Safeguarding and protecting our natural and historic assets, and enhancing resilience to address the challenges of climate change, will enable us to attract people to our communities and provide the wellbeing and quality of life to encourage them to stay and preserve the foundations for the future' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp38 (Word version).
The plan does not consider the Glyncoch Partnership's proposals which are focused upon enhancing the designated area of land for access to the Graigwen Nature reserve, as well as a host of projects to enhance the health and wellbeing of residents, support out door learning as well as community resilience to climate change.
It is also important to point out that the settlement boundary surrounding Glyncoch does not include Cefn Primary School, whereas it does include other schools in Rhondda Cynon Taff.

20	9			Why changes satisfy Soundness												Give details why the changes you propose will ensure that the Plan Our proposals are much more consistent with the Wales Spatial Plan's commitment to supporting the economic development of communities without compromising environmental and social considerations. 'Our future depends on the validity of our communities as attractive places to live and work. We need to reduce inequalities between communities whilst retaining their character and distinctive ness' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp29 (Word version). 'The quality of our natural environment has an intrinsic value as a life support system, but also promotes wellbeing for living and working and contributes to our economic objectives. Safeguarding and protecting our natural and historic assets, and enhancing resilience to address the challenges of climate change, will enable us to attract people to our communities and provide the wellbeing and quality of life to encourage them to stay and preserve the foundations for the future' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp38 (Word version). The plan does not consider the Glyncoch Partnership's proposals which are focused upon enhancing the designated area of land for access to the Graigwen Nature reserve, as well as a host of projects to enhance the health and wellbeing of residents, support out door learning as well as community resilience to climate change. It is also important to point out that the settlement boundary surrounding Glyncoch does not include Cefn Primary School, whereas it does include other schools in Rhondda Cynon Taff.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

Our proposals are much more consistent with the Wales Spatial Plan's commitment to supporting the economic development of communities without compromising environmental and social considerations.
'Our future depends on the validity of our communities as attractive places to live and work. We need to reduce inequalities between communities whilst retaining their character and distinctive ness' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp29 (Word version).
'The quality of our natural environment has an intrinsic value as a life support system, but also promotes wellbeing for living and working and contributes to our economic objectives. Safeguarding and protecting our natural and historic assets, and enhancing resilience to address the challenges of climate change, will enable us to attract people to our communities and provide the wellbeing and quality of life to encourage them to stay and preserve the foundations for the future' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp38 (Word version).
The plan does not consider the Glyncoch Partnership's proposals which are focused upon enhancing the designated area of land for access to the Graigwen Nature reserve, as well as a host of projects to enhance the health and wellbeing of residents, support out door learning as well as community resilience to climate change.
It is also important to point out that the settlement boundary surrounding Glyncoch does not include Cefn Primary School, whereas it does include other schools in Rhondda Cynon Taff.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

Our proposals are much more consistent with the Wales Spatial Plan's commitment to supporting the economic development of communities without compromising environmental and social considerations.
'Our future depends on the validity of our communities as attractive places to live and work. We need to reduce inequalities between communities whilst retaining their character and distinctive ness' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp29 (Word version).
'The quality of our natural environment has an intrinsic value as a life support system, but also promotes wellbeing for living and working and contributes to our economic objectives. The plan does not consider the Glyncoch Partnership's proposals which are focused upon enhancing the designated area of land for access to the Graigwen Nature reserve, as well as a host of projects to enhance the health and wellbeing of residents, support out door learning as well as community resilience to climate change.
It is also important to point out that the settlement boundary surrounding Glyncoch does not include Cefn Primary School, whereas it does include other schools in Rhondda Cynon Taff.

	The proposals developed by the Glyncoch Community Partnership and GAFA Group are much more consistent with community needs, as well as the National Assembly for Wales constitutional duty to promote sustainable development which takes into account environmental and social considerations as well economic considerations. Also the LDP is faulty in that it does not include Cefn Primary School within its boundaries for residential and community amenity and the site for mineral extraction is 154 meters (sic) from the nearest house contradicting the 200 Buffer Zone policy.

	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The designated area for mineral extraction is just outside of the community (154 meters (sic) from the nearest house and 160 meters (sic) from the school) and contradicts the 200 meter (sic) Buffer Zone policy.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch and allows Craig yr Hesg to expand.
8 7	Previous Representation No
	Our representation was not made in January because the plans were not released. We are making our rerepresentation in the public consultation period (5th Feb - 26 March 09).

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

Our proposals are much more consistent with the Wales Spatial Plan's commitment to supporting the economic development of communities without compromising environmental and social considerations.
'Our future depends on the validity of our communities as attractive places to live and work. We need to reduce inequalities between communities whilst retaining their character and distinctive ness' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp29 (Word version).
'The quality of our natural environment has an intrinsic value as a life support system, but also promotes wellbeing for living and working and contributes to our economic objectives. The plan does not consider the Glyncoch Partnership's proposals which are focused upon enhancing the designated area of land for access to the Graigwen Nature reserve, as well as a host of projects to enhance the health and wellbeing of residents, support out door learning as well as community resilience to climate change.
It is also important to point out that the settlement boundary surrounding Glyncoch does not include Cefn Primary School, whereas it does include other schools in Rhondda Cynon Taff.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

20	9	Why changes satisfy Soundness Give details why the changes you propose will ensure that the Plan
Our proposals are much more consistent with the Wales Spatial Plan's commitment to supporting the economic development of communities without compromising environmental and social considerations.
'Our future depends on the validity of our communities as attractive places to live and work. We need to reduce inequalities between communities whilst retaining their character and distinctive ness' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp29 (Word version).
'The quality of our natural environment has an intrinsic value as a life support system, but also promotes wellbeing for living and working and contributes to our economic objectives. Safeguarding and protecting our natural and historic assets, and enhancing resilience to address the challenges of climate change, will enable us to attract people to our communities and provide the wellbeing and quality of life to encourage them to stay and preserve the foundations for the future' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp38 (Word version).
The plan does not consider the Glyncoch Partnership's proposals which are focused upon enhancing the designated area of land for access to the Graigwen Nature reserve, as well as a host of projects to enhance the health and wellbeing of residents, support out door learning as well as community resilience to climate change.
It is also important to point out that the settlement boundary surrounding Glyncoch does not include Cefn Primary School, whereas it does include other schools in Rhondda Cynon Taff.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The designated area for mineral extraction is just outside of the community (154 meters (sic) from the nearest house and 160 meters (sic) from the school) and contradicts the 200 meter (sic) Buffer Zone policy.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch and allows Craig yr Hesg to expand.
8 7	Previous Representation No
	Our representation was not made in January because the plans were not released. We are making our reopresentation in the public consultation period (5th Feb - 26 March 09).

	The proposals developed by the Glyncoch Community Partnership and GAFA Group are much more consistent with community needs, as well as the National Assembly for Wales constitutional duty to promote sustainable development which takes into account environmental and social considerations as well economic considerations. Also the LDP is faulty in that it does not include Cefn Primary School within its boundaries for residential and community amenity and the site for mineral extraction is 154 meters (sic) from the nearest house contradicting the 200 Buffer Zone policy.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

20	9	Why changes satisfy Soundness Give details why the changes you propose will ensure that the Plan
Our proposals are much more consistent with the Wales Spatial Plan's commitment to supporting the economic development of communities without compromising environmental and social considerations.
'Our future depends on the validity of our communities as attractive places to live and work. We need to reduce inequalities between communities whilst retaining their character and distinctive ness' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp29 (Word version).
'The quality of our natural environment has an intrinsic value as a life support system, but also promotes wellbeing for living and working and contributes to our economic objectives. Safeguarding and protecting our natural and historic assets, and enhancing resilience to address the challenges of climate change, will enable us to attract people to our communities and provide the wellbeing and quality of life to encourage them to stay and preserve the foundations for the future' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp38 (Word version).
The plan does not consider the Glyncoch Partnership's proposals which are focused upon enhancing the designated area of land for access to the Graigwen Nature reserve, as well as a host of projects to enhance the health and wellbeing of residents, support out door learning as well as community resilience to climate change.
It is also important to point out that the settlement boundary surrounding Glyncoch does not include Cefn Primary School, whereas it does include other schools in Rhondda Cynon Taff.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

20	9	Why changes satisfy Soundness Give details why the changes you propose will ensure that the Plan
Our proposals are much more consistent with the Wales Spatial Plan's commitment to supporting the economic development of communities without compromising environmental and social considerations.
'Our future depends on the validity of our communities as attractive places to live and work. We need to reduce inequalities between communities whilst retaining their character and distinctive ness' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp29 (Word version).
'The quality of our natural environment has an intrinsic value as a life support system, but also promotes wellbeing for living and working and contributes to our economic objectives. Safeguarding and protecting our natural and historic assets, and enhancing resilience to address the challenges of climate change, will enable us to attract people to our communities and provide the wellbeing and quality of life to encourage them to stay and preserve the foundations for the future' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp38 (Word version).
The plan does not consider the Glyncoch Partnership's proposals which are focused upon enhancing the designated area of land for access to the Graigwen Nature reserve, as well as a host of projects to enhance the health and wellbeing of residents, support out door learning as well as community resilience to climate change.
It is also important to point out that the settlement boundary surrounding Glyncoch does not include Cefn Primary School, whereas it does include other schools in Rhondda Cynon Taff.

	The proposals developed by the Glyncoch Community Partnership and GAFA Group are much more consistent with community needs, as well as the National Assembly for Wales constitutional duty to promote sustainable development which takes into account environmental and social considerations as well economic considerations. Also the LDP is faulty in that it does not include Cefn Primary School within its boundaries for residential and community amenity and the site for mineral extraction is 154 meters (sic) from the nearest house contradicting the 200 Buffer Zone policy.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The designated area for mineral extraction is just outside of the community (154 meters (sic) from the nearest house and 160 meters (sic) from the school) and contradicts the 200 meter (sic) Buffer Zone policy.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch and allows Craig yr Hesg to expand.
8 7	Previous Representation No
	Our representation was not made in January because the plans were not released. We are making our reopresentation in the public consultation period (5th Feb - 26 March 09).

I am concerned about all the damage that we have already by the quarry. Every time it blasts the whole of upstairs seem to shake. My mirror rattles in my kitchen. I have cracks everywhere even though I fill every time I redo the deco. I'm worried that I wont be able to sell my house or that it's going to collapse into a heap of rubble. My old door used to knock when the (sic) blasted. I really do not want anymore damage.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

20	9	Why changes satisfy Soundness Give details why the changes you propose will ensure that the Plan
Our proposals are much more consistent with the Wales Spatial Plan's commitment to supporting the economic development of communities without compromising environmental and social considerations.
'Our future depends on the validity of our communities as attractive places to live and work. We need to reduce inequalities between communities whilst retaining their character and distinctive ness' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp29 (Word version).
'The quality of our natural environment has an intrinsic value as a life support system, but also promotes wellbeing for living and working and contributes to our economic objectives. Safeguarding and protecting our natural and historic assets, and enhancing resilience to address the challenges of climate change, will enable us to attract people to our communities and provide the wellbeing and quality of life to encourage them to stay and preserve the foundations for the future' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp38 (Word version).
The plan does not consider the Glyncoch Partnership's proposals which are focused upon enhancing the designated area of land for access to the Graigwen Nature reserve, as well as a host of projects to enhance the health and wellbeing of residents, support out door learning as well as community resilience to climate change.
It is also important to point out that the settlement boundary surrounding Glyncoch does not include Cefn Primary School, whereas it does include other schools in Rhondda Cynon Taff.

Our proposals are much more consistent with the Wales Spatial Plan's commitment to supporting the economic development of communities without compromising environmental and social considerations.
'Our future depends on the validity of our communities as attractive places to live and work. We need to reduce inequalities between communities whilst retaining their character and distinctive ness' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp29 (Word version).
'The quality of our natural environment has an intrinsic value as a life support system, but also promotes wellbeing for living and working and contributes to our economic objectives. Safeguarding and protecting our natural and historic assets, and enhancing resilience to address the challenges of climate change, will enable us to attract people to our communities and provide the wellbeing and quality of life to encourage them to stay and preserve the foundations for the future' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp38 (Word version).
The plan does not consider the Glyncoch Partnership's proposals which are focused upon enhancing the designated area of land for access to the Graigwen Nature reserve, as well as a host of projects to enhance the health and wellbeing of residents, support out door learning as well as community resilience to climate change.
It is also important to point out that the settlement boundary surrounding Glyncoch does not include Cefn Primary School, whereas it does include other schools in Rhondda Cynon Taff.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

20	9	Why changes satisfy Soundness Give details why the changes you propose will ensure that the Plan
Our proposals are much more consistent with the Wales Spatial Plan's commitment to supporting the economic development of communities without compromising environmental and social considerations.
'Our future depends on the validity of our communities as attractive places to live and work. We need to reduce inequalities between communities whilst retaining their character and distinctive ness' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp29 (Word version).
'The quality of our natural environment has an intrinsic value as a life support system, but also promotes wellbeing for living and working and contributes to our economic objectives. Safeguarding and protecting our natural and historic assets, and enhancing resilience to address the challenges of climate change, will enable us to attract people to our communities and provide the wellbeing and quality of life to encourage them to stay and preserve the foundations for the future' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp38 (Word version).
The plan does not consider the Glyncoch Partnership's proposals which are focused upon enhancing the designated area of land for access to the Graigwen Nature reserve, as well as a host of projects to enhance the health and wellbeing of residents, support out door learning as well as community resilience to climate change.
It is also important to point out that the settlement boundary surrounding Glyncoch does not include Cefn Primary School, whereas it does include other schools in Rhondda Cynon Taff.

The amount of dust that comes over is really unhealthy as we have to breathe it in. I can polish or dust the surfaces of furniture in the morning and a few hours later its as dusty as ever. The noise when blasting takes place is frightening as the house vibrates. Back in the 70's we had our windows broken and tiles off the roof due to rock coming over.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

Our proposals are much more consistent with the Wales Spatial Plan's commitment to supporting the economic development of communities without compromising environmental and social considerations.
'Our future depends on the validity of our communities as attractive places to live and work. We need to reduce inequalities between communities whilst retaining their character and distinctive ness' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp29 (Word version).
'The quality of our natural environment has an intrinsic value as a life support system, but also promotes wellbeing for living and working and contributes to our economic objectives. Safeguarding and protecting our natural and historic assets, and enhancing resilience to address the challenges of climate change, will enable us to attract people to our communities and provide the wellbeing and quality of life to encourage them to stay and preserve the foundations for the future' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp38 (Word version).
The plan does not consider the Glyncoch Partnership's proposals which are focused upon enhancing the designated area of land for access to the Graigwen Nature reserve, as well as a host of projects to enhance the health and wellbeing of residents, support out door learning as well as community resilience to climate change.
It is also important to point out that the settlement boundary surrounding Glyncoch does not include Cefn Primary School, whereas it does include other schools in Rhondda Cynon Taff.

	The proposals developed by the Glyncoch Community Partnership and GAFA Group are much more consistent with community needs, as well as the National Assembly for Wales constitutional duty to promote sustainable development which takes into account environmental and social considerations as well economic considerations. Also the LDP is faulty in that it does not include Cefn Primary School within its boundaries for residential and community amenity and the site for mineral extraction is 154 meters (sic) from the nearest house contradicting the 200 Buffer Zone policy.

	The proposals developed by the Glyncoch Community Partnership and GAFA Group are much more consistent with community needs, as well as the National Assembly for Wales constitutional duty to promote sustainable development which takes into account environmental and social considerations as well economic considerations. Also the LDP is faulty in that it does not include Cefn Primary School within its boundaries for residential and community amenity and the site for mineral extraction is 154 meters (sic) from the nearest house contradicting the 200 Buffer Zone policy.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The designated area for mineral extraction is just outside of the community (154 meters (sic) from the nearest house and 160 meters (sic) from the school) and contradicts the 200 meter (sic) Buffer Zone policy.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch and allows Craig yr Hesg to expand.
8 7	Previous Representation No
	Our representation was not made in January because the plans were not released. We are making our reoresentation in the public consultation period (5th Feb - 26 March 09).

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

20	9	Why changes satisfy Soundness Give details why the changes you propose will ensure that the Plan
Our proposals are much more consistent with the Wales Spatial Plan's commitment to supporting the economic development of communities without compromising environmental and social considerations.
'Our future depends on the validity of our communities as attractive places to live and work. We need to reduce inequalities between communities whilst retaining their character and distinctive ness' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp29 (Word version).
'The quality of our natural environment has an intrinsic value as a life support system, but also promotes wellbeing for living and working and contributes to our economic objectives. Safeguarding and protecting our natural and historic assets, and enhancing resilience to address the challenges of climate change, will enable us to attract people to our communities and provide the wellbeing and quality of life to encourage them to stay and preserve the foundations for the future' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp38 (Word version).
The plan does not consider the Glyncoch Partnership's proposals which are focused upon enhancing the designated area of land for access to the Graigwen Nature reserve, as well as a host of projects to enhance the health and wellbeing of residents, support out door learning as well as community resilience to climate change.
It is also important to point out that the settlement boundary surrounding Glyncoch does not include Cefn Primary School, whereas it does include other schools in Rhondda Cynon Taff.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The designated area for mineral extraction is just outside of the community (154 meters (sic) from the nearest house and 160 meters (sic) from the school) and contradicts the 200 meter (sic) Buffer Zone policy.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch and allows Craig yr Hesg to expand.
8 7	Previous Representation No
	Our representation was not made in January because the plans were not released. We are making our reoresentation in the public consultation period (5th Feb - 26 March 09).

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

20	9	Why changes satisfy Soundness Give details why the changes you propose will ensure that the Plan
Our proposals are much more consistent with the Wales Spatial Plan's commitment to supporting the economic development of communities without compromising environmental and social considerations.
'Our future depends on the validity of our communities as attractive places to live and work. We need to reduce inequalities between communities whilst retaining their character and distinctive ness' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp29 (Word version).
'The quality of our natural environment has an intrinsic value as a life support system, but also promotes wellbeing for living and working and contributes to our economic objectives. Safeguarding and protecting our natural and historic assets, and enhancing resilience to address the challenges of climate change, will enable us to attract people to our communities and provide the wellbeing and quality of life to encourage them to stay and preserve the foundations for the future' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp38 (Word version).
The plan does not consider the Glyncoch Partnership's proposals which are focused upon enhancing the designated area of land for access to the Graigwen Nature reserve, as well as a host of projects to enhance the health and wellbeing of residents, support out door learning as well as community resilience to climate change.
It is also important to point out that the settlement boundary surrounding Glyncoch does not include Cefn Primary School, whereas it does include other schools in Rhondda Cynon Taff.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

20	9	Why changes satisfy Soundness Give details why the changes you propose will ensure that the Plan
Our proposals are much more consistent with the Wales Spatial Plan's commitment to supporting the economic development of communities without compromising environmental and social considerations.
'Our future depends on the validity of our communities as attractive places to live and work. We need to reduce inequalities between communities whilst retaining their character and distinctive ness' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp29 (Word version).
'The quality of our natural environment has an intrinsic value as a life support system, but also promotes wellbeing for living and working and contributes to our economic objectives. Safeguarding and protecting our natural and historic assets, and enhancing resilience to address the challenges of climate change, will enable us to attract people to our communities and provide the wellbeing and quality of life to encourage them to stay and preserve the foundations for the future' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp38 (Word version).
The plan does not consider the Glyncoch Partnership's proposals which are focused upon enhancing the designated area of land for access to the Graigwen Nature reserve, as well as a host of projects to enhance the health and wellbeing of residents, support out door learning as well as community resilience to climate change.
It is also important to point out that the settlement boundary surrounding Glyncoch does not include Cefn Primary School, whereas it does include other schools in Rhondda Cynon Taff.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

Our proposals are much more consistent with the Wales Spatial Plan's commitment to supporting the economic development of communities without compromising environmental and social considerations.
'Our future depends on the validity of our communities as attractive places to live and work. We need to reduce inequalities between communities whilst retaining their character and distinctive ness' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp29 (Word version).
'The quality of our natural environment has an intrinsic value as a life support system, but also promotes wellbeing for living and working and contributes to our economic objectives. Safeguarding and protecting our natural and historic assets, and enhancing resilience to address the challenges of climate change, will enable us to attract people to our communities and provide the wellbeing and quality of life to encourage them to stay and preserve the foundations for the future' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp38 (Word version).
The plan does not consider the Glyncoch Partnership's proposals which are focused upon enhancing the designated area of land for access to the Graigwen Nature reserve, as well as a host of projects to enhance the health and wellbeing of residents, support out door learning as well as community resilience to climate change.
It is also important to point out that the settlement boundary surrounding Glyncoch does not include Cefn Primary School, whereas it does include other schools in Rhondda Cynon Taff.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

20	9	Why changes satisfy Soundness Give details why the changes you propose will ensure that the Plan
Our proposals are much more consistent with the Wales Spatial Plan's commitment to supporting the economic development of communities without compromising environmental and social considerations.
'Our future depends on the validity of our communities as attractive places to live and work. We need to reduce inequalities between communities whilst retaining their character and distinctive ness' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp29 (Word version).
'The quality of our natural environment has an intrinsic value as a life support system, but also promotes wellbeing for living and working and contributes to our economic objectives. Safeguarding and protecting our natural and historic assets, and enhancing resilience to address the challenges of climate change, will enable us to attract people to our communities and provide the wellbeing and quality of life to encourage them to stay and preserve the foundations for the future' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp38 (Word version).
The plan does not consider the Glyncoch Partnership's proposals which are focused upon enhancing the designated area of land for access to the Graigwen Nature reserve, as well as a host of projects to enhance the health and wellbeing of residents, support out door learning as well as community resilience to climate change.
It is also important to point out that the settlement boundary surrounding Glyncoch does not include Cefn Primary School, whereas it does include other schools in Rhondda Cynon Taff.

	The proposals developed by the Glyncoch Community Partnership and GAFA Group are much more consistent with community needs, as well as the National Assembly for Wales constitutional duty to promote sustainable development which takes into account environmental and social considerations as well economic considerations. Also the LDP is faulty in that it does not include Cefn Primary School within its boundaries for residential and community amenity and the site for mineral extraction is 154 meters (sic) from the nearest house contradicting the 200 Buffer Zone policy.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The designated area for mineral extraction is just outside of the community (154 meters (sic) from the nearest house and 160 meters (sic) from the school) and contradicts the 200 meter (sic) Buffer Zone policy.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch and allows Craig yr Hesg to expand.
8 7	Previous Representation No
	Our representation was not made in January because the plans were not released. We are making our reopresentation in the public consultation period (5th Feb - 26 March 09).

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

20	9	Why changes satisfy Soundness Give details why the changes you propose will ensure that the Plan
Our proposals are much more consistent with the Wales Spatial Plan's commitment to supporting the economic development of communities without compromising environmental and social considerations.
'Our future depends on the validity of our communities as attractive places to live and work. We need to reduce inequalities between communities whilst retaining their character and distinctive ness' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp29 (Word version).
'The quality of our natural environment has an intrinsic value as a life support system, but also promotes wellbeing for living and working and contributes to our economic objectives. Safeguarding and protecting our natural and historic assets, and enhancing resilience to address the challenges of climate change, will enable us to attract people to our communities and provide the wellbeing and quality of life to encourage them to stay and preserve the foundations for the future' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp38 (Word version).
The plan does not consider the Glyncoch Partnership's proposals which are focused upon enhancing the designated area of land for access to the Graigwen Nature reserve, as well as a host of projects to enhance the health and wellbeing of residents, support out door learning as well as community resilience to climate change.
It is also important to point out that the settlement boundary surrounding Glyncoch does not include Cefn Primary School, whereas it does include other schools in Rhondda Cynon Taff.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The designated area for mineral extraction is just outside of the community (154 meters (sic) from the nearest house and 160 meters (sic) from the school) and contradicts the 200 meter (sic) Buffer Zone policy.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch and allows Craig yr Hesg to expand.
8 7	Previous Representation No
	Our representation was not made in January because the plans were not released. We are making our reoresentation in the public consultation period (5th Feb - 26 March 09).

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

20	9	Why changes satisfy Soundness Give details why the changes you propose will ensure that the Plan
Our proposals are much more consistent with the Wales Spatial Plan's commitment to supporting the economic development of communities without compromising environmental and social considerations.
'Our future depends on the validity of our communities as attractive places to live and work. We need to reduce inequalities between communities whilst retaining their character and distinctive ness' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp29 (Word version).
'The quality of our natural environment has an intrinsic value as a life support system, but also promotes wellbeing for living and working and contributes to our economic objectives. Safeguarding and protecting our natural and historic assets, and enhancing resilience to address the challenges of climate change, will enable us to attract people to our communities and provide the wellbeing and quality of life to encourage them to stay and preserve the foundations for the future' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp38 (Word version).
The plan does not consider the Glyncoch Partnership's proposals which are focused upon enhancing the designated area of land for access to the Graigwen Nature reserve, as well as a host of projects to enhance the health and wellbeing of residents, support out door learning as well as community resilience to climate change.
It is also important to point out that the settlement boundary surrounding Glyncoch does not include Cefn Primary School, whereas it does include other schools in Rhondda Cynon Taff.

Our proposals are much more consistent with the Wales Spatial Plan's commitment to supporting the economic development of communities without compromising environmental and social considerations.
'Our future depends on the validity of our communities as attractive places to live and work. We need to reduce inequalities between communities whilst retaining their character and distinctive ness' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp29 (Word version).
'The quality of our natural environment has an intrinsic value as a life support system, but also promotes wellbeing for living and working and contributes to our economic objectives. The plan does not consider the Glyncoch Partnership's proposals which are focused upon enhancing the designated area of land for access to the Graigwen Nature reserve, as well as a host of projects to enhance the health and wellbeing of residents, support out door learning as well as community resilience to climate change.
It is also important to point out that the settlement boundary surrounding Glyncoch does not include Cefn Primary School, whereas it does include other schools in Rhondda Cynon Taff.

The proposals indicate that the quarry will be extended within 160 meters (sic) of the nearest residential property and 165 meters (sic) of Cefn Primary school. RNAText The Glyncoch Community partnership wish to develop this area of land for pathways to link Glyncoch with Loops and Links paths as well as having a more pleasant walking route to Pontypridd town centre. The proposals would also give us a link to the out door classrooms in the woodland adjacent to Graigwen. These proposals are much more consistent both with the meets (sic) of the Glyncoch community and our aspirations to be a healthy active community and a highly educated community that cares about our local environment.

2 3	Representation text The proposals indicate that the quarry will be extended within 160 meters (sic) of the nearest residential property and 165 meters (sic) of Cefn Primary school. I am deeply concerned about the blasting at the quarry and how it may compromise the structural integrity of our local school and homes.
4 5	Changes sought The Glyncoch Community partnership wish to develop this area of land for pathways to link Glyncoch with Loops and Links paths as well as having a more pleasant walking route to Pontypridd town centre. The proposals would also give us a link to the out door classrooms in the woodland adjacent to Graigwen. These proposals are much more consistent both with the meets (sic) of the Glyncoch community and our aspirations to be a healthy active community and a highly educated community that cares about our local environment.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

Our proposals are much more consistent with the Wales Spatial Plan's commitment to supporting the economic development of communities without compromising environmental and social considerations.
'Our future depends on the validity of our communities as attractive places to live and work. We need to reduce inequalities between communities whilst retaining their character and distinctive ness' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp29 (Word version).
'The quality of our natural environment has an intrinsic value as a life support system, but also promotes wellbeing for living and working and contributes to our economic objectives. Safeguarding and protecting our natural and historic assets, and enhancing resilience to address the challenges of climate change, will enable us to attract people to our communities and provide the wellbeing and quality of life to encourage them to stay and preserve the foundations for the future' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp38 (Word version).
The plan does not consider the Glyncoch Partnership's proposals which are focused upon enhancing the designated area of land for access to the Graigwen Nature reserve, as well as a host of projects to enhance the health and wellbeing of residents, support out door learning as well as community resilience to climate change.
It is also important to point out that the settlement boundary surrounding Glyncoch does not include Cefn Primary School, whereas it does include other schools in Rhondda Cynon Taff.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

Our proposals are much more consistent with the Wales Spatial Plan's commitment to supporting the economic development of communities without compromising environmental and social considerations.
'Our future depends on the validity of our communities as attractive places to live and work. We need to reduce inequalities between communities whilst retaining their character and distinctive ness' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp29 (Word version).
'The quality of our natural environment has an intrinsic value as a life support system, but also promotes wellbeing for living and working and contributes to our economic objectives. Safeguarding and protecting our natural and historic assets, and enhancing resilience to address the challenges of climate change, will enable us to attract people to our communities and provide the wellbeing and quality of life to encourage them to stay and preserve the foundations for the future' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp38 (Word version).
The plan does not consider the Glyncoch Partnership's proposals which are focused upon enhancing the designated area of land for access to the Graigwen Nature reserve, as well as a host of projects to enhance the health and wellbeing of residents, support out door learning as well as community resilience to climate change.
It is also important to point out that the settlement boundary surrounding Glyncoch does not include Cefn Primary School, whereas it does include other schools in Rhondda Cynon Taff.

20	9	Why changes satisfy Soundness Give details why the changes you propose will ensure that the Plan
Our proposals are much more consistent with the Wales Spatial Plan's commitment to supporting the economic development of communities without compromising environmental and social considerations.
'Our future depends on the validity of our communities as attractive places to live and work. We need to reduce inequalities between communities whilst retaining their character and distinctive ness' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp29 (Word version).
'The quality of our natural environment has an intrinsic value as a life support system, but also promotes wellbeing for living and working and contributes to our economic objectives. Safeguarding and protecting our natural and historic assets, and enhancing resilience to address the challenges of climate change, will enable us to attract people to our communities and provide the wellbeing and quality of life to encourage them to stay and preserve the foundations for the future' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp38 (Word version).
The plan does not consider the Glyncoch Partnership's proposals which are focused upon enhancing the designated area of land for access to the Graigwen Nature reserve, as well as a host of projects to enhance the health and wellbeing of residents, support out door learning as well as community resilience to climate change.
It is also important to point out that the settlement boundary surrounding Glyncoch does not include Cefn Primary School, whereas it does include other schools in Rhondda Cynon Taff.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

'Our future depends on the validity of our communities as attractive places to live and work. We need to reduce inequalities between communities whilst retaining their character and distinctive ness' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp29 (Word version).
'The quality of our natural environment has an intrinsic value as a life support system, but also promotes wellbeing for living and working and contributes to our economic objectives. Safeguarding and protecting our natural and historic assets, and enhancing resilience to address the challenges of climate change, will enable us to attract people to our communities and provide the wellbeing and quality of life to encourage them to stay and preserve the foundations for the future' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp38 (Word version).
The plan does not consider the Glyncoch Partnership's proposals which are focused upon enhancing the designated area of land for access to the Graigwen Nature reserve, as well as a host of projects to enhance the health and wellbeing of residents, support out door learning as well as community resilience to climate change.
It is also important to point out that the settlement boundary surrounding Glyncoch does not include Cefn Primary School, whereas it does include other schools in Rhondda Cynon Taff.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

Our proposals are much more consistent with the Wales Spatial Plan's commitment to supporting the economic development of communities without compromising environmental and social considerations.
'Our future depends on the validity of our communities as attractive places to live and work. We need to reduce inequalities between communities whilst retaining their character and distinctive ness' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp29 (Word version).
'The quality of our natural environment has an intrinsic value as a life support system, but also promotes wellbeing for living and working and contributes to our economic objectives. Safeguarding and protecting our natural and historic assets, and enhancing resilience to address the challenges of climate change, will enable us to attract people to our communities and provide the wellbeing and quality of life to encourage them to stay and preserve the foundations for the future' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp38 (Word version).
The plan does not consider the Glyncoch Partnership's proposals which are focused upon enhancing the designated area of land for access to the Graigwen Nature reserve, as well as a host of projects to enhance the health and wellbeing of residents, support out door learning as well as community resilience to climate change.
It is also important to point out that the settlement boundary surrounding Glyncoch does not include Cefn Primary School, whereas it does include other schools in Rhondda Cynon Taff.

20	9	Why changes satisfy Soundness Give details why the changes you propose will ensure that the Plan
Our proposals are much more consistent with the Wales Spatial Plan's commitment to supporting the economic development of communities without compromising environmental and social considerations.
'Our future depends on the validity of our communities as attractive places to live and work. We need to reduce inequalities between communities whilst retaining their character and distinctive ness' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp29 (Word version).
'The quality of our natural environment has an intrinsic value as a life support system, but also promotes wellbeing for living and working and contributes to our economic objectives. Safeguarding and protecting our natural and historic assets, and enhancing resilience to address the challenges of climate change, will enable us to attract people to our communities and provide the wellbeing and quality of life to encourage them to stay and preserve the foundations for the future' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp38 (Word version).
The plan does not consider the Glyncoch Partnership's proposals which are focused upon enhancing the designated area of land for access to the Graigwen Nature reserve, as well as a host of projects to enhance the health and wellbeing of residents, support out door learning as well as community resilience to climate change.
It is also important to point out that the settlement boundary surrounding Glyncoch does not include Cefn Primary School, whereas it does include other schools in Rhondda Cynon Taff.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

Our proposals are much more consistent with the Wales Spatial Plan's commitment to supporting the economic development of communities without compromising environmental and social considerations.
'Our future depends on the validity of our communities as attractive places to live and work. We need to reduce inequalities between communities whilst retaining their character and distinctive ness' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp29 (Word version).
'The quality of our natural environment has an intrinsic value as a life support system, but also promotes wellbeing for living and working and contributes to our economic objectives. Safeguarding and protecting our natural and historic assets, and enhancing resilience to address the challenges of climate change, will enable us to attract people to our communities and provide the wellbeing and quality of life to encourage them to stay and preserve the foundations for the future' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp38 (Word version).
The plan does not consider the Glyncoch Partnership's proposals which are focused upon enhancing the designated area of land for access to the Graigwen Nature reserve, as well as a host of projects to enhance the health and wellbeing of residents, support out door learning as well as community resilience to climate change.
It is also important to point out that the settlement boundary surrounding Glyncoch does not include Cefn Primary School, whereas it does include other schools in Rhondda Cynon Taff.

Our proposals are much more consistent with the Wales Spatial Plan's commitment to supporting the economic development of communities without compromising environmental and social considerations.
'Our future depends on the validity of our communities as attractive places to live and work. We need to reduce inequalities between communities whilst retaining their character and distinctive ness' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp29 (Word version).
'The quality of our natural environment has an intrinsic value as a life support system, but also promotes wellbeing for living and working and contributes to our economic objectives. The plan does not consider the Glyncoch Partnership's proposals which are focused upon enhancing the designated area of land for access to the Graigwen Nature reserve, as well as a host of projects to enhance the health and wellbeing of residents, support out door learning as well as community resilience to climate change.
It is also important to point out that the settlement boundary surrounding Glyncoch does not include Cefn Primary School, whereas it does include other schools in Rhondda Cynon Taff.

20	9	Why changes satisfy Soundness Give details why the changes you propose will ensure that the Plan
Our proposals are much more consistent with the Wales Spatial Plan's commitment to supporting the economic development of communities without compromising environmental and social considerations.
'Our future depends on the validity of our communities as attractive places to live and work. We need to reduce inequalities between communities whilst retaining their character and distinctive ness' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp29 (Word version).
'The quality of our natural environment has an intrinsic value as a life support system, but also promotes wellbeing for living and working and contributes to our economic objectives. Safeguarding and protecting our natural and historic assets, and enhancing resilience to address the challenges of climate change, will enable us to attract people to our communities and provide the wellbeing and quality of life to encourage them to stay and preserve the foundations for the future' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp38 (Word version).
The plan does not consider the Glyncoch Partnership's proposals which are focused upon enhancing the designated area of land for access to the Graigwen Nature reserve, as well as a host of projects to enhance the health and wellbeing of residents, support out door learning as well as community resilience to climate change.
It is also important to point out that the settlement boundary surrounding Glyncoch does not include Cefn Primary School, whereas it does include other schools in Rhondda Cynon Taff.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

The plan does not consider the Glyncoch Partnership's proposals which are focused upon enhancing the designated area of land for access to the Graigwen Nature reserve, as well as a host of projects to enhance the health and wellbeing of residents, support out door learning as well as community resilience to climate change.
It is also important to point out that the settlement boundary surrounding Glyncoch does not include Cefn Primary School, whereas it does include other schools in Rhondda Cynon Taff.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

Our proposals are much more consistent with the Wales Spatial Plan's commitment to supporting the economic development of communities without compromising environmental and social considerations.
'Our future depends on the validity of our communities as attractive places to live and work. We need to reduce inequalities between communities whilst retaining their character and distinctive ness' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp29 (Word version).
'The quality of our natural environment has an intrinsic value as a life support system, but also promotes wellbeing for living and working and contributes to our economic objectives. Safeguarding and protecting our natural and historic assets, and enhancing resilience to address the challenges of climate change, will enable us to attract people to our communities and provide the wellbeing and quality of life to encourage them to stay and preserve the foundations for the future' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp38 (Word version).

A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. 20	9	Why changes satisfy Soundness Give details why the changes you propose will ensure that the Plan
Our proposals are much more consistent with the Wales Spatial Plan's commitment to supporting the economic development of communities without compromising environmental and social considerations.
'Our future depends on the validity of our communities as attractive places to live and work. We need to reduce inequalities between communities whilst retaining their character and distinctive ness' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp29 (Word version).
'The quality of our natural environment has an intrinsic value as a life support system, but also promotes wellbeing for living and working and contributes to our economic objectives. Safeguarding and protecting our natural and historic assets, and enhancing resilience to address the challenges of climate change, will enable us to attract people to our communities and provide the wellbeing and quality of life to encourage them to stay and preserve the foundations for the future' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp38 (Word version).
The plan does not consider the Glyncoch Partnership's proposals which are focused upon enhancing the designated area of land for access to the Graigwen Nature reserve, as well as a host of projects to enhance the health and wellbeing of residents, support out door learning as well as community resilience to climate change.
It is also important to point out that the settlement boundary surrounding Glyncoch does not include Cefn Primary School, whereas it does include other schools in Rhondda Cynon Taff.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

Our proposals are much more consistent with the Wales Spatial Plan's commitment to supporting the economic development of communities without compromising environmental and social considerations.
'Our future depends on the validity of our communities as attractive places to live and work. We need to reduce inequalities between communities whilst retaining their character and distinctive ness' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp29 (Word version).
'The quality of our natural environment has an intrinsic value as a life support system, but also promotes wellbeing for living and working and contributes to our economic objectives. The plan does not consider the Glyncoch Partnership's proposals which are focused upon enhancing the designated area of land for access to the Graigwen Nature reserve, as well as a host of projects to enhance the health and wellbeing of residents, support out door learning as well as community resilience to climate change.
It is also important to point out that the settlement boundary surrounding Glyncoch does not include Cefn Primary School, whereas it does include other schools in Rhondda Cynon Taff.

Our proposals are much more consistent with the Wales Spatial Plan's commitment to supporting the economic development of communities without compromising environmental and social considerations.
'Our future depends on the validity of our communities as attractive places to live and work. We need to reduce inequalities between communities whilst retaining their character and distinctive ness' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp29 (Word version).
'The quality of our natural environment has an intrinsic value as a life support system, but also promotes wellbeing for living and working and contributes to our economic objectives. Safeguarding and protecting our natural and historic assets, and enhancing resilience to address the challenges of climate change, will enable us to attract people to our communities and provide the wellbeing and quality of life to encourage them to stay and preserve the foundations for the future' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp38 (Word version).
The plan does not consider the Glyncoch Partnership's proposals which are focused upon enhancing the designated area of land for access to the Graigwen Nature reserve, as well as a host of projects to enhance the health and wellbeing of residents, support out door learning as well as community resilience to climate change.
It is also important to point out that the settlement boundary surrounding Glyncoch does not include Cefn Primary School, whereas it does include other schools in Rhondda Cynon Taff.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

Our proposals are much more consistent with the Wales Spatial Plan's commitment to supporting the economic development of communities without compromising environmental and social considerations.
'Our future depends on the validity of our communities as attractive places to live and work. We need to reduce inequalities between communities whilst retaining their character and distinctive ness' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp29 (Word version).
'The quality of our natural environment has an intrinsic value as a life support system, but also promotes wellbeing for living and working and contributes to our economic objectives. Safeguarding and protecting our natural and historic assets, and enhancing resilience to address the challenges of climate change, will enable us to attract people to our communities and provide the wellbeing and quality of life to encourage them to stay and preserve the foundations for the future' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp38 (Word version).
The plan does not consider the Glyncoch Partnership's proposals which are focused upon enhancing the designated area of land for access to the Graigwen Nature reserve, as well as a host of projects to enhance the health and wellbeing of residents, support out door learning as well as community resilience to climate change.
It is also important to point out that the settlement boundary surrounding Glyncoch does not include Cefn Primary School, whereas it does include other schools in Rhondda Cynon Taff.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

Our proposals are much more consistent with the Wales Spatial Plan's commitment to supporting the economic development of communities without compromising environmental and social considerations.
'Our future depends on the validity of our communities as attractive places to live and work. We need to reduce inequalities between communities whilst retaining their character and distinctive ness' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp29 (Word version).
'The quality of our natural environment has an intrinsic value as a life support system, but also promotes wellbeing for living and working and contributes to our economic objectives. The plan does not consider the Glyncoch Partnership's proposals which are focused upon enhancing the designated area of land for access to the Graigwen Nature reserve, as well as a host of projects to enhance the health and wellbeing of residents, support out door learning as well as community resilience to climate change.
It is also important to point out that the settlement boundary surrounding Glyncoch does not include Cefn Primary School, whereas it does include other schools in Rhondda Cynon Taff.

20	9	Why changes satisfy Soundness Give details why the changes you propose will ensure that the Plan
Our proposals are much more consistent with the Wales Spatial Plan's commitment to supporting the economic development of communities without compromising environmental and social considerations.
'Our future depends on the validity of our communities as attractive places to live and work. We need to reduce inequalities between communities whilst retaining their character and distinctive ness' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp29 (Word version).
'The quality of our natural environment has an intrinsic value as a life support system, but also promotes wellbeing for living and working and contributes to our economic objectives. Safeguarding and protecting our natural and historic assets, and enhancing resilience to address the challenges of climate change, will enable us to attract people to our communities and provide the wellbeing and quality of life to encourage them to stay and preserve the foundations for the future' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp38 (Word version).
The plan does not consider the Glyncoch Partnership's proposals which are focused upon enhancing the designated area of land for access to the Graigwen Nature reserve, as well as a host of projects to enhance the health and wellbeing of residents, support out door learning as well as community resilience to climate change.
It is also important to point out that the settlement boundary surrounding Glyncoch does not include Cefn Primary School, whereas it does include other schools in Rhondda Cynon Taff.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

Our proposals are much more consistent with the Wales Spatial Plan's commitment to supporting the economic development of communities without compromising environmental and social considerations.
'Our future depends on the validity of our communities as attractive places to live and work. We need to reduce inequalities between communities whilst retaining their character and distinctive ness' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp29 (Word version).
'The quality of our natural environment has an intrinsic value as a life support system, but also promotes wellbeing for living and working and contributes to our economic objectives. Safeguarding and protecting our natural and historic assets, and enhancing resilience to address the challenges of climate change, will enable us to attract people to our communities and provide the wellbeing and quality of life to encourage them to stay and preserve the foundations for the future' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp38 (Word version).
The plan does not consider the Glyncoch Partnership's proposals which are focused upon enhancing the designated area of land for access to the Graigwen Nature reserve, as well as a host of projects to enhance the health and wellbeing of residents, support out door learning as well as community resilience to climate change.
It is also important to point out that the settlement boundary surrounding Glyncoch does not include Cefn Primary School, whereas it does include other schools in Rhondda Cynon Taff.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

Our proposals are much more consistent with the Wales Spatial Plan's commitment to supporting the economic development of communities without compromising environmental and social considerations.
'Our future depends on the validity of our communities as attractive places to live and work. We need to reduce inequalities between communities whilst retaining their character and distinctive ness' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp29 (Word version).
'The quality of our natural environment has an intrinsic value as a life support system, but also promotes wellbeing for living and working and contributes to our economic objectives. The plan does not consider the Glyncoch Partnership's proposals which are focused upon enhancing the designated area of land for access to the Graigwen Nature reserve, as well as a host of projects to enhance the health and wellbeing of residents, support out door learning as well as community resilience to climate change.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

Our proposals are much more consistent with the Wales Spatial Plan's commitment to supporting the economic development of communities without compromising environmental and social considerations.
'Our future depends on the validity of our communities as attractive places to live and work. We need to reduce inequalities between communities whilst retaining their character and distinctive ness' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp29 (Word version).
'The quality of our natural environment has an intrinsic value as a life support system, but also promotes wellbeing for living and working and contributes to our economic objectives. Safeguarding and protecting our natural and historic assets, and enhancing resilience to address the challenges of climate change, will enable us to attract people to our communities and provide the wellbeing and quality of life to encourage them to stay and preserve the foundations for the future' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp38 (Word version).
The plan does not consider the Glyncoch Partnership's proposals which are focused upon enhancing the designated area of land for access to the Graigwen Nature reserve, as well as a host of projects to enhance the health and wellbeing of residents, support out door learning as well as community resilience to climate change.
It is also important to point out that the settlement boundary surrounding Glyncoch does not include Cefn Primary School, whereas it does include other schools in Rhondda Cynon Taff.

Our proposals are much more consistent with the Wales Spatial Plan's commitment to supporting the economic development of communities without compromising environmental and social considerations.
'Our future depends on the validity of our communities as attractive places to live and work. We need to reduce inequalities between communities whilst retaining their character and distinctive ness' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp29 (Word version).
'The quality of our natural environment has an intrinsic value as a life support system, but also promotes wellbeing for living and working and contributes to our economic objectives. Safeguarding and protecting our natural and historic assets, and enhancing resilience to address the challenges of climate change, will enable us to attract people to our communities and provide the wellbeing and quality of life to encourage them to stay and preserve the foundations for the future' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp38 (Word version).
The plan does not consider the Glyncoch Partnership's proposals which are focused upon enhancing the designated area of land for access to the Graigwen Nature reserve, as well as a host of projects to enhance the health and wellbeing of residents, support out door learning as well as community resilience to climate change.
It is also important to point out that the settlement boundary surrounding Glyncoch does not include Cefn Primary School, whereas it does include other schools in Rhondda Cynon Taff.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

20	9	Why changes satisfy Soundness Give details why the changes you propose will ensure that the Plan
Our proposals are much more consistent with the Wales Spatial Plan's commitment to supporting the economic development of communities without compromising environmental and social considerations.
'Our future depends on the validity of our communities as attractive places to live and work. We need to reduce inequalities between communities whilst retaining their character and distinctive ness' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp29 (Word version).
'The quality of our natural environment has an intrinsic value as a life support system, but also promotes wellbeing for living and working and contributes to our economic objectives. Safeguarding and protecting our natural and historic assets, and enhancing resilience to address the challenges of climate change, will enable us to attract people to our communities and provide the wellbeing and quality of life to encourage them to stay and preserve the foundations for the future' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp38 (Word version).
The plan does not consider the Glyncoch Partnership's proposals which are focused upon enhancing the designated area of land for access to the Graigwen Nature reserve, as well as a host of projects to enhance the health and wellbeing of residents, support out door learning as well as community resilience to climate change.
It is also important to point out that the settlement boundary surrounding Glyncoch does not include Cefn Primary School, whereas it does include other schools in Rhondda Cynon Taff.

	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

Our proposals are much more consistent with the Wales Spatial Plan's commitment to supporting the economic development of communities without compromising environmental and social considerations.
'Our future depends on the validity of our communities as attractive places to live and work. We need to reduce inequalities between communities whilst retaining their character and distinctive ness' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp29 (Word version).
'The quality of our natural environment has an intrinsic value as a life support system, but also promotes wellbeing for living and working and contributes to our economic objectives. Safeguarding and protecting our natural and historic assets, and enhancing resilience to address the challenges of climate change, will enable us to attract people to our communities and provide the wellbeing and quality of life to encourage them to stay and preserve the foundations for the future' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp38 (Word version).
The plan does not consider the Glyncoch Partnership's proposals which are focused upon enhancing the designated area of land for access to the Graigwen Nature reserve, as well as a host of projects to enhance the health and wellbeing of residents, support out door learning as well as community resilience to climate change.
It is also important to point out that the settlement boundary surrounding Glyncoch does not include Cefn Primary School, whereas it does include other schools in Rhondda Cynon Taff.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.

20	9			Why changes satisfy Soundness												Give details why the changes you propose will ensure that the Plan Our proposals are much more consistent with the Wales Spatial Plan's commitment to supporting the economic development of communities without compromising environmental and social considerations. 'Our future depends on the validity of our communities as attractive places to live and work. We need to reduce inequalities between communities whilst retaining their character and distinctive ness' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp29 (Word version). 'The quality of our natural environment has an intrinsic value as a life support system, but also promotes wellbeing for living and working and contributes to our economic objectives. Safeguarding and protecting our natural and historic assets, and enhancing resilience to address the challenges of climate change, will enable us to attract people to our communities and provide the wellbeing and quality of life to encourage them to stay and preserve the foundations for the future' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp38 (Word version). The plan does not consider the Glyncoch Partnership's proposals which are focused upon enhancing the designated area of land for access to the Graigwen Nature reserve, as well as a host of projects to enhance the health and wellbeing of residents, support out door learning as well as community resilience to climate change. It is also important to point out that the settlement boundary surrounding Glyncoch does not include Cefn Primary School, whereas it does include other schools in Rhondda Cynon Taff.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

Our proposals are much more consistent with the Wales Spatial Plan's commitment to supporting the economic development of communities without compromising environmental and social considerations.
'Our future depends on the validity of our communities as attractive places to live and work. We need to reduce inequalities between communities whilst retaining their character and distinctive ness' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp29 (Word version).
'The quality of our natural environment has an intrinsic value as a life support system, but also promotes wellbeing for living and working and contributes to our economic objectives. Safeguarding and protecting our natural and historic assets, and enhancing resilience to address the challenges of climate change, will enable us to attract people to our communities and provide the wellbeing and quality of life to encourage them to stay and preserve the foundations for the future' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp38 (Word version).
The plan does not consider the Glyncoch Partnership's proposals which are focused upon enhancing the designated area of land for access to the Graigwen Nature reserve, as well as a host of projects to enhance the health and wellbeing of residents, support out door learning as well as community resilience to climate change.
It is also important to point out that the settlement boundary surrounding Glyncoch does not include Cefn Primary School, whereas it does include other schools in Rhondda Cynon Taff.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

20	9			Why changes satisfy Soundness												Give details why the changes you propose will ensure that the Plan Our proposals are much more consistent with the Wales Spatial Plan's commitment to supporting the economic development of communities without compromising environmental and social considerations. Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

20	9			Why changes satisfy Soundness												Give details why the changes you propose will ensure that the Plan Our proposals are much more consistent with the Wales Spatial Plan's commitment to supporting the economic development of communities without compromising environmental and social considerations. 'Our future depends on the validity of our communities as attractive places to live and work. We need to reduce inequalities between communities whilst retaining their character and distinctive ness' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp29 (Word version). 'The quality of our natural environment has an intrinsic value as a life support system, but also promotes wellbeing for living and working and contributes to our economic objectives. Safeguarding and protecting our natural and historic assets, and enhancing resilience to address the challenges of climate change, will enable us to attract people to our communities and provide the wellbeing and quality of life to encourage them to stay and preserve the foundations for the future' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp38 (Word version). The plan does not consider the Glyncoch Partnership's proposals which are focused upon enhancing the designated area of land for access to the Graigwen Nature reserve, as well as a host of projects to enhance the health and wellbeing of residents, support out door learning as well as community resilience to climate change. It is also important to point out that the settlement boundary surrounding Glyncoch does not include Cefn Primary School, whereas it does include other schools in Rhondda Cynon Taff.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

20	9	Why changes satisfy Soundness Give details why the changes you propose will ensure that the Plan
Our proposals are much more consistent with the Wales Spatial Plan's commitment to supporting the economic development of communities without compromising environmental and social considerations.
'Our future depends on the validity of our communities as attractive places to live and work. We need to reduce inequalities between communities whilst retaining their character and distinctive ness' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp29 (Word version).
'The quality of our natural environment has an intrinsic value as a life support system, but also promotes wellbeing for living and working and contributes to our economic objectives. Safeguarding and protecting our natural and historic assets, and enhancing resilience to address the challenges of climate change, will enable us to attract people to our communities and provide the wellbeing and quality of life to encourage them to stay and preserve the foundations for the future' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp38 (Word version).
The plan does not consider the Glyncoch Partnership's proposals which are focused upon enhancing the designated area of land for access to the Graigwen Nature reserve, as well as a host of projects to enhance the health and wellbeing of residents, support out door learning as well as community resilience to climate change.
It is also important to point out that the settlement boundary surrounding Glyncoch does not include Cefn Primary School, whereas it does include other schools in Rhondda Cynon Taff.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

Our proposals are much more consistent with the Wales Spatial Plan's commitment to supporting the economic development of communities without compromising environmental and social considerations.
'Our future depends on the validity of our communities as attractive places to live and work. We need to reduce inequalities between communities whilst retaining their character and distinctive ness' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp29 (Word version).
'The quality of our natural environment has an intrinsic value as a life support system, but also promotes wellbeing for living and working and contributes to our economic objectives. Safeguarding and protecting our natural and historic assets, and enhancing resilience to address the challenges of climate change, will enable us to attract people to our communities and provide the wellbeing and quality of life to encourage them to stay and preserve the foundations for the future' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp38 (Word version).
The plan does not consider the Glyncoch Partnership's proposals which are focused upon enhancing the designated area of land for access to the Graigwen Nature reserve, as well as a host of projects to enhance the health and wellbeing of residents, support out door learning as well as community resilience to climate change.
It is also important to point out that the settlement boundary surrounding Glyncoch does not include Cefn Primary School, whereas it does include other schools in Rhondda Cynon Taff.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

20	9	Why changes satisfy Soundness Give details why the changes you propose will ensure that the Plan
Our proposals are much more consistent with the Wales Spatial Plan's commitment to supporting the economic development of communities without compromising environmental and social considerations.
'Our future depends on the validity of our communities as attractive places to live and work. We need to reduce inequalities between communities whilst retaining their character and distinctive ness' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp29 (Word version).
'The quality of our natural environment has an intrinsic value as a life support system, but also promotes wellbeing for living and working and contributes to our economic objectives. Safeguarding and protecting our natural and historic assets, and enhancing resilience to address the challenges of climate change, will enable us to attract people to our communities and provide the wellbeing and quality of life to encourage them to stay and preserve the foundations for the future' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp38 (Word version).
The plan does not consider the Glyncoch Partnership's proposals which are focused upon enhancing the designated area of land for access to the Graigwen Nature reserve, as well as a host of projects to enhance the health and wellbeing of residents, support out door learning as well as community resilience to climate change.
It is also important to point out that the settlement boundary surrounding Glyncoch does not include Cefn Primary School, whereas it does include other schools in Rhondda Cynon Taff.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

Our proposals are much more consistent with the Wales Spatial Plan's commitment to supporting the economic development of communities without compromising environmental and social considerations.
'Our future depends on the validity of our communities as attractive places to live and work. We need to reduce inequalities between communities whilst retaining their character and distinctive ness' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp29 (Word version).
'The quality of our natural environment has an intrinsic value as a life support system, but also promotes wellbeing for living and working and contributes to our economic objectives. Safeguarding and protecting our natural and historic assets, and enhancing resilience to address the challenges of climate change, will enable us to attract people to our communities and provide the wellbeing and quality of life to encourage them to stay and preserve the foundations for the future' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp38 (Word version).
The plan does not consider the Glyncoch Partnership's proposals which are focused upon enhancing the designated area of land for access to the Graigwen Nature reserve, as well as a host of projects to enhance the health and wellbeing of residents, support out door learning as well as community resilience to climate change.
It is also important to point out that the settlement boundary surrounding Glyncoch does not include Cefn Primary School, whereas it does include other schools in Rhondda Cynon Taff.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

Our proposals are much more consistent with the Wales Spatial Plan's commitment to supporting the economic development of communities without compromising environmental and social considerations.
'Our future depends on the validity of our communities as attractive places to live and work. We need to reduce inequalities between communities whilst retaining their character and distinctive ness' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp29 (Word version).
'The quality of our natural environment has an intrinsic value as a life support system, but also promotes wellbeing for living and working and contributes to our economic objectives. Safeguarding and protecting our natural and historic assets, and enhancing resilience to address the challenges of climate change, will enable us to attract people to our communities and provide the wellbeing and quality of life to encourage them to stay and preserve the foundations for the future' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp38 (Word version).
The plan does not consider the Glyncoch Partnership's proposals which are focused upon enhancing the designated area of land for access to the Graigwen Nature reserve, as well as a host of projects to enhance the health and wellbeing of residents, support out door learning as well as community resilience to climate change.
It is also important to point out that the settlement boundary surrounding Glyncoch does not include Cefn Primary School, whereas it does include other schools in Rhondda Cynon Taff.

1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

20	9			Why changes satisfy Soundness												Give details why the changes you propose will ensure that the Plan Our proposals are much more consistent with the Wales Spatial Plan's commitment to supporting the economic development of communities without compromising environmental and social considerations. 'Our future depends on the validity of our communities as attractive places to live and work. We need to reduce inequalities between communities whilst retaining their character and distinctive ness' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp29 (Word version). 'The quality of our natural environment has an intrinsic value as a life support system, but also promotes wellbeing for living and working and contributes to our economic objectives. Safeguarding and protecting our natural and historic assets, and enhancing resilience to address the challenges of climate change, will enable us to attract people to our communities and provide the wellbeing and quality of life to encourage them to stay and preserve the foundations for the future' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp38 (Word version). The plan does not consider the Glyncoch Partnership's proposals which are focused upon enhancing the designated area of land for access to the Graigwen Nature reserve, as well as a host of projects to enhance the health and wellbeing of residents, support out door learning as well as community resilience to climate change. It is also important to point out that the settlement boundary surrounding Glyncoch does not include Cefn Primary School, whereas it does include other schools in Rhondda Cynon Taff.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

20	9			Why changes satisfy Soundness												Give details why the changes you propose will ensure that the Plan Our proposals are much more consistent with the Wales Spatial Plan's commitment to supporting the economic development of communities without compromising environmental and social considerations. 'Our future depends on the validity of our communities as attractive places to live and work. We need to reduce inequalities between communities whilst retaining their character and distinctive ness' (WAG: Wales Spatial Plan (2008) pp29 (Word version). 	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

The plan does not consider the Glyncoch Partnership's proposals which are focused upon enhancing the designated area of land for access to the Graigwen Nature reserve, as well as a host of projects to enhance the health and wellbeing of residents, support out door learning as well as community resilience to climate change. It is also important to point out that the settlement boundary surrounding Glyncoch does not include Cefn Primary School, whereas it does include other schools in Rhondda Cynon Taff.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.

Item	Question	Representation Text
1 2	Issue Summary
	Objection to designation of area of land surrounding Glyncoch for extraction of minerals.
2 3	Representation text
	The expansion of Craig yr Hesg quarry will lead to further noise and disruption to the residents of Glyncoch, exacerbate air quality and threaten the structure and integrity of the primary school as well as nearby housing. The designated area for mineral extraction is just 138.75 meters (sic) from the nearest house, 160 meters (sic) from the local primary school and just 123 meters (sic) from the primary school's outdoor classroom. A large number of local residents have expressed health and safety concerns. The current fencing surrounding the quarry is faulty and with easy access for children, this would be of greater concern, should the quarry be expanded. There is also inadequate infrastructure for the transportation of minerals. The current quarrying levels have a negative impact on the quality of life of local residents. An expansion of the quarrying activity would be intolerable.
4 5	Changes sought
	To remove the designated area for mineral extraction from the site, which is adjacent to Glyncoch, allowing the quarry to expand further. For the site to be designated instead, as a community amenity, enabling residents to access the countryside through links with the nearby designated nature reserve, as well as to develop an outdoor activities and natural environmental learning zone. Alternative proposals developed by local people will facilitate economic, social and environmental regeneration and the genuinely holistic, sustainable development of the Glyncoch community as well as RCT CBC.
