Silver Young Ambassador

Cardinal Newman RC Comprehensive School

She is a dedicated Young Ambassador at Cardinal Newman RC Comprehensive School. Her leadership journey began in primary school, where she made a remarkable impact and created a legacy that continues to inspire others. Now in secondary school, she has picked up right where she left off, bringing her enthusiasm, creativity, and commitment to a new team of Young Ambassadors. Together, they are currently designing an exciting project aimed at increasing participation across the school community.

“Being a Young Ambassador has helped grow my confidence and my love for sport. I have helped so many young people get into sports and start being more active in school. I have also helped my school to get more funding for sports equipment. I have learnt that you don't need to love sport or be sporty to be a Young Ambassador and that you can get active in other ways and that you don't just have to do sports. Being a Young Ambassador is really helpful for confidence, leadership, and making new friendships. I am very thankful to be a Young Ambassador and I am so thankful that I got this opportunity to help others.”
