

NORMAN JENKINS

Norman Jenkins has been the quiet, consistent driving force behind Rhondda Table Tennis Club for over four decades. A true volunteer in every sense, he has devoted countless hours each week to coaching, mentoring, and supporting players of all ages and abilities, giving thousands of young people their first opportunity to experience table tennis. Through his leadership and dedication, Norman has played a foundational role in establishing Rhondda as the most successful table tennis club in Welsh history, helping to produce Welsh and British champions, Commonwealth medallists, and generations of committed players.

Norman has always ensured the club remains welcoming, inclusive, and accessible. He has also been a key mentor to his sons, Ryan and Stephen, who went on to become Commonwealth medallists and national coaches. Still serving as Head Coach, Norman continues to lead by example. Humble and selfless, he is widely regarded as the heart of the club.
